Lending Bill Brings Fight in U.S. Congress

Roosevelt's $386,000,000 Measure As Hotly Debated As Dollar Vote On Wednesday

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States Congress, already engaged in bitter controversy over monetary and neutrality legislation, expects to get this week another highly provocative issue—President Roosevelt's proposed $386,000,000 lending program.

It will be considered first in the House. Republicans who scuttled the administration's neutrality bill have served notice they will undertake to do the same to the lending program.

Republicans expect to vote Wednesday when the Senate acts on the House-approved legislation which would continue the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund, reviving the President's power to value the United States dollar, and fix the price of domestic silver at 71 cents an ounce.

Administration leaders appeared confident, however, that the Senate would approve this legislation. A vote on it was blocked Friday night by Republican debate which extended long enough to permit present monetary powers to lapse at midnight.

BOY STOWAWAY ON NANAIMO SHIP

Four-year-old Returned to Mother in Vancouver After Adventure

VANCOUVER (CP) — Tommy Greig, four, Vancouver's youngest stowaway, was back with his mother today after an unscheduled holiday trip to Nanaimo aboard a coast steamship.

Mrs. Hugh Greig and her three children were at the pier to see the father, a Royal Canadian Air Force signaller, sail for Esquimalt yesterday morning. Tommy became separated from the others.

He walked alongside another woman and up the gangplank of the Ss. Princess Victoria. Officials took him for the woman's son and did not find their mistake until the vessel was some distance out from Vancouver.

Tommy's identity was disclosed after a wireless check with company officials here.

The ship's crew said the lad was frightened at first but soon stopped crying and was given something to eat. He was turned over to the ship's stewardess, who cared for him until the vessel returned here late last night.

AUSTRALIA STANDS WITH BRITAIN

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Premier Robert Gordon Menzies said Sunday that Australia stands with Great Britain "to the last man and last shilling . . . even if it means war."

Disclosing he was in "hourly" contact with the London government, Mr. Menzies said in a speech:

"We never hesitated in expressing an opinion . . . but because we believed Britain throughout has acted with honor, judgment and long-suffering, care and patience . . . Australia takes her stand."

Former Louisiana College Head Goes Home for Trial

Dr. J. M. Smith Says In Brockville, Ont., He Is Clear of Theft Returns Voluntarily

BROCKVILLE, Ont. (CP) — Dr. James Monroe Smith told reporters here today he was not guilty of any misconduct of affairs of Louisiana State University of which he was president until a week ago, and declared he was going back to Baton Rouge "to help clear up this matter."

Held here on $100,000 embezzlement charges since he gave himself up to Brockville police Saturday night, Dr. Smith declared there had been no improper use by him of university funds.

"There are no outstanding bonds of the university that can not be properly accounted for," he asserted.

"You claim you are not guilty of the charges?" he was asked.

"Of course," he replied.

"And you are going to fight the charges?"

DR. JAMES M. SMITH

"I am going back there to straighten them out, or to assist in straightening them out," Dr. Smith said.

The 51-year-old educationist said he did not know, when he left Baton Rouge with Mrs. Smith after his resignation eight days ago, that any charges had been preferred against him.

TO TRAVEL BY AIR

Dr. Smith was interviewed shortly before Louisiana state police officials reached here to return him to Baton Rouge by airplane.

"Why did you come to Canada?" a reporter asked.

"I do not care to answer that question," he replied.

"I want to say I have been shown every courtesy and consideration by the Brockville police," he added, "and that goes for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, too."

Dr. Smith posed for news photographers in the corridor of his hotel room, consenting to see the photographers and reporters on condition that Mrs. Smith would not be disturbed. She did not appear.

Dr. Smith would not discuss the charge against him in detail.

He said he had no intention of fighting extradition and that his only wish was to get home as quickly as possible to put his affairs with the state in order.

SURPRISE VOICED

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The surrender at Brockville, Ont., of Dr. James Monroe Smith, former university president charged with embezzlement of school funds, caused a sensation in the state capital, where he lived for nine years during which the Louisiana State University sprang from obscurity into a great university. He had been hunted for a week.

No early trial is anticipated because of a crowded parish court docket.

The Smiths, on an offiical salary of $15,000, dazzled Baton Rouge with their social life. They once introduced their debutante daughter to society in New Orleans at a function some believed cost at least $5,000.

The late U.S. Senator Huey P. Long brought Smith in as head of the school. Since 1930 more than $13,500,000 has been spent on a campus building program.

QUESTIONS ON QUINTS' CONTRACTS

Dionne Calls on Dr. Dafoe to Show Papers to Guardians

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP)—Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, physician to the Dionne quintuplets, said today he had been given documents requiring his presence at the next meeting of the girls' guardians with contracts in which his name is linked with those of the quintuplets.

Beyond that, Dr. Dafoe had no comment to make on the filing at the Nipissing district courthouse on behalf of Oliva Dionne, of a "notice to produce" requiring the doctor's presence at the meeting with the contracts.

Next meeting of the board, which meets monthly, is scheduled for Friday in judge's chamber's of the courthouse.

Sheriff A. B. Girard declined to permit examination of the "notice to produce" since no action or suit has been filed.

Pope to Rest

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Prelates said today a group of the Pope's most trusted cardinals had persuaded him to take a "complete rest" for at least three weeks.

They said the Pontiff expected to suspend all private and public audiences as soon as he reached his lakeside retreat at Castel Gandolfo for the summer, about July 9.

Intimates said Pope Pius has shown signs of nervous exhaustion under the strain of his position.

Lindbergh in South

SAN RAFAEL, Cal. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived by plane at nearby Hamilton Field, United States army air base, shortly before noon today.

The flier, on a survey of army air corps units, came from Salt Lake City, where he stayed last night.

He declined to announce his next stop and field officers said it was possible he would spend tonight here.

EXPECT WEATHER TO CLEAR TONIGHT

Gradually clearing skies tonight and warmer weather tomorrow are forecast by the Gonzales Hill weather station, but officials say they have so little information from ships at sea that they cannot make a longer range prophecy.

For this afternoon the observatory forecasts fresh south to southwestery winds, clouds, cool weather and showers.

The rain which brought many Victorians' outdoor holiday weekends to a sudden end yesterday was caused by a depression moving in over Vancouver Island from the west coast, the weather man said. Today it is leaving the island and invading the mainland.

The official opening of the school tomorrow at 10 will be more informal than in previous years, when various heads of education in the province took part.

Tomorrow H. L. Campbell, director of the schools, will introduce the staff to the student body and make announcements of a general nature, after which classes will swing into action.

S. R. Weston, formerly chief engineer of the New Brunswick Power Commission, has been engaged as chief engineer of the B.C. Public Utilities Commission, Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman, announced this morning.

He will commence his duties August 1, starting with appraisal of properties of the B.C. Electric Railway Company in Greater Vancouver and the lower Fraser Valley.

Dr. Carrothers said the step was the beginning of a complete appraisal of all public utilities in the province. The work would take three or four years, he indicated, and no adjustment of rates could be expected before a year or 18 months.

Following examination on the mainland, the chief engineer will work in Greater Victoria and other districts of Vancouver Island.

Since early this year Mr. Weston has been in British Columbia, acting as adviser to the Utilities Commission. He is now in Saint John, but will leave shortly for Victoria.

Danzig Pressure Reported Easing

British-French-Polish Firmness Believed To Be Causing Nazis to Slow Up

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON — The British government is maintaining close contact with Paris and Warsaw over Danzig, Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today while the feeling grew in London there was no immediate danger of a blow-up over the status of the Free City.

Although Mr. Chamberlain confirmed reports that a large and increasing number of Germans were arriving in Danzig, ostensibly as tourists, diplomatic quarters took the view that Anglo-French-Polish determination to resist any change in the status of the Free City was causing the Nazis to go slowly.

Frederick Cocks, Labor, asked in the House whether the government proposed "to take steps to inform Herr Hitler personally that any attempt to change the status of Danzig by force will be instantly resisted by the British government."

Shouts of "that has been done!" came from the Conservative benches before the Prime Minister could reply. When he did speak he said:

"The position has been made perfectly clear by the Foreign Secretary"—an apparent reference to the speech by Lord Halifax last Thursday, when he said "What is now fully and universally accepted in this country is that in the event of further aggression we are resolved to use at once the whole of our strength in fulfillment of our pledges to resist it."

Laborite Hugh Dalton asked the Prime Minister whether the government would convey to Warsaw "an expression of the admiration felt in this country at the calm courage and self-control being displayed by our Polish allies in the face of grave provocation."

"The government much appreciates the attitude of the Polish government," Mr. Chamberlain replied.

Before his appearance in the House, Mr. Chamberlain had conferred for an hour with the King in Buckingham Palace.

DECLARATION URGED

PARIS (AP) — French political circles suggested today that France, Great Britain and Poland make a direct statement to the Nazi-dominated Danzig Senate warning against any move by that body to transfer the Free City to Germany.

French newspapers emphasized the suggestion as a sequel to a French warning to Germany Saturday that the Anglo-French anti-aggression front was ready immediately to help Poland if Germany forced her hand.

Informed quarters said that "every military step necessary for immediate action, up to the calling of reserves," had been taken in the last few days.

URGE BENNETT SERVE BRITAIN

Former Canadian Premier Celebrates 69th Birthday

LONDON (CP)—The Evening Standard today greeted Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett on his 69th birthday anniversary by suggesting his abilities might be used in the national service organization.

The newspaper's "Londoner's Diary" called the former Canadian Prime Minister a "mellow, kindly man" who "expresses his own opinions vigorously, but he is generous in his judgments of other people."

The diary said it was strange that Mr. Bennett had not been mentioned so far in connection with national service, "but there is no doubt this name will soon be heard in that connection."

"Mr. Bennett is young enough and strong enough to serve," the writer added, "and advantage should be taken of his presence here to give him employment where his energy and prestige would be of value to the Empire."

At present Mr. Bennett is spending most of his time supervising redecoration of the great rectangular brick house on his Juniper Hill estate near Mickleham, Surrey.

Canada's former Prime Minister hopes to move from his London hotel and take up residence by the end of July, in a setting that resembles a small corner of the Gatineau country north of Ottawa.

Urges Canada Take Newfoundland

TORONTO (CP) — Sir Richard Squires, former Premier of Newfoundland, today expressed puzzlement why Canada "has not extended her realm by the inclusion of Newfoundland and Labrador in the Canadian confederacy so that the British North America Act might be entire."

A close constitutional connection would consolidate intimate relations already in existence. "We know Canada. We have the same churches, fraternal organizations and banks. Our lawyers, doctors and clergymen are nearly all trained in Canada," he said.

Sir Richard argued that officials of the present commission of government had been trained in British possessions other than Canada, and so perhaps were not entirely conversant with Newfoundland characteristics. And Downing Street had plenty to do elsewhere.

"It is a wonderful opportunity for Canada to step in and take over," he said. "Newfoundland could take the initiative but it was really up to Canada."

FINDS OWN SON DEAD IN PLANE

ALBERT LEA, Minn. (AP)—Hurrying to the spot where an airplane crashed about half a mile from his country store, S. A. Watney was horrified last night to find the body of his son in the tangled wreckage.

Kermit Watney, 21, the son, was the first of two fatalities of the accident, which occurred in a field 21 miles south of here. Clarence Webber, 22, was taken from the wreckage alive but died en route to hospital.

The pilot of the three-seater plane, Irving Engen, about 27, of Glenville, Minn., was in hospital today in critical condition.

HAIL DAMAGE IN ALBERTA $1,000,000

CALGARY (CP) — Reports from towns in the southern half of Alberta today indicated hail damage late Saturday and Sunday over a wide area would reach $1,000,000.

The worst storm, cutting a zigzag swath eight miles wide and almost 100 miles long along the Drumheller Valley, east and southeast of Didsbury, broke windows, flattened crops and caused damage estimated at more than $500,000.

Didsbury, 48 miles north of Calgary, reported 100 per cent damage to crops. One farmer said his 50 chickens were killed by hailstones the size of golf balls.

As the storm swept southward it struck again with intensity at Gleichen, 40 miles east of Calgary; at Brooks, 100 miles southeast of Calgary, and at Wrentham and Foremost, in the extreme southeastern portion of Alberta.

Search Gulf for Young Couple Lost in Motorboat

Percy MacFarlane and Muriel Shaw, Galiano Island, Are Missing Police Boats Are Out

Percy MacFarlane, 35, and Muriel Shaw, 26, of Galiano Island, were the object of a wide search by Provincial Police patrol boats in the Gulf Islands area today after being unreported since they left Galiano Island for Vancouver last night at 7.

Provincial Police headquarters here was directing the search by radio as it was feared they may have capsized in their 16-foot boat, powered with an outboard motor, in which they expected to make the trip in an hour and a half.

Friends became worried after 8.30 last night when they failed to show up at the C.P.R. dock in False Creek, where they had arranged to land.

Police said the sea was not rough at the time they left, although a southwest breeze was blowing.

There was a possibility the craft developed engine trouble and the couple put in at one of the Gulf Island bays.

It was their intention to travel through Porlier Pass then across the Gulf of Georgia, police were told. The Provincial Police boats No. 6 from Ganges, with Corpl. Fred Boyt in command, and the No. 9 from Pender Island were engaged in the search today. They planned to scour the island passages for any trace of the craft which is painted black, with a white water line and green bottom and has no name.

The four-year-old boy was drowned when he fell into the water while playing with another boy.

U.S. Youth Congress Split on Communism

NEW YORK (AP)—A schism in the ranks of the American Youth Congress developed late today when 23 of the 135 organizations in the conclave bolted the meeting as a result of the congress' vote against a resolution denouncing Communism.

The insurgents left the hall after William Ball of Cleveland, O., representing the Youth Americanist League, had called on "all patriots" to walk out.

Alfred M. Lilienthal, president of the First Voters' League of New York, said immediately after the walk-out that his organization and the 22 others "are through with the American Youth Congress."

Japan Warned on Insults

Renewal of Indignities to Britons Would Endanger Talks at Tientsin, Tokio Told

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain disclosed today Sir Robert Craigie, the British ambassador in Tokio, had informed the Japanese authorities that any attempt to renew the program of indignities on British subjects in blockaded Tientsin would imperil negotiations to settle the dispute on an amicable basis.

R. A. Butler, foreign undersecretary, in response to questions on the Far Eastern situation, told the Commons there had been no official confirmation of new incidents in Tientsin involving the stripping of British persons, but added:

"His Majesty's ambassador in Tokio has been instructed to inform the Japanese government that any deliberate extension of such treatment to British subjects must imperil the success of the forthcoming talks."

He was referring to negotiations to begin this week in Tokio on the dispute concerning Tientsin, where the British and French concessions have been blockaded since June 14.

British Sailor Held at Tientsin

TIENTSIN (AP) — Japanese gendarmes Monday held a Briton identified as Edward Theodore Griffiths, second officer on the British coastal steamer Yochow.

They arrested him in Japanese-held territory Sunday night, alleging he had used insulting language toward Japanese soldiers.

John Anderson, a Tientsin-born British newspaperman, was compelled to strip and was slapped with his passport Sunday by Japanese soldiers after a general tightening of the Japanese blockade of the British and French concessions here.

Infantry Fight On Manchukuo Line

HSINKING, Manchukuo (AP) —Japanese army communiques Monday reported the capture of a strongly-fortified Soviet-Outer Mongolian position atop a strategic hill along the Khalka River after a heavy battle on the Manchukuo-Mongolia frontier.

Reports from the Kwantung army, Japan's Manchukuo garrison, said the attackers battled to the summit of the hill in the face of raking machine gun fire and then locked in hand-to-hand fighting until the position was cleared.

They said airplanes were active on both sides, both for bombing and reconnoitring.

The Japanese reported they opened the attack at dawn with a bombardment of enemy positions across the river in which, they said, they destroyed an undisclosed number of tanks and about 100 trucks and wagons.

TANKS CAPTURED

They said they captured 30 tanks when their infantry encountered a Mongolian corps of 100.

The report of the offensive along the Khalka River southeast of Lake Bor, in a region where sporadic frontier warfare between Outer Mongolia and Manchukuo has been waged since May 11, was the first to disclose infantry fighting.

Previous Japanese dispatches had reported clashes between motorized land forces and both sides had reported air battles.

King Says Britain Ready

Sovereign Speaks After Reviewing Great Parade of National Service Volunteers

LONDON (CP)—The King told the people of Great Britain during the week-end that the United Kingdom will be "ready to meet any emergency, whatever the sacrifices or inconveniences." At the same time Prime Minister Chamberlain gave a new warning to the world that his government is determined to resist aggression.

The King's message, read by Mr. Chamberlain during a brief broadcast speech, climaxed a series of speeches by Britons representatives of both church and state, who echoed last Thursday's stern warning by Lord Halifax, the Foreign Secretary, that Great Britain is ready to resist aggression at the cost of war.

As proof of Britain's readiness, King George and Queen Elizabeth, standing in Hyde Park under a grey sky and in windy weather, reviewed 20,000 men and women, national service volunteers who will be entrusted with civil defence in event of war.

It was the first time in this country's history that a King has reviewed such a volunteer corps, which Mr. Chamberlain characterized in his speech as "the fourth arm" of Britain's defences, "standing side by side with the auxiliaries of our three fighting forces as a definite part of the organization of our country's protection."

"We are living in critical and dangerous times," said Mr. Chamberlain, "but let no one make the mistake of supposing that we are not ready to throw our whole strength into the scale if need be to resist aggression, whether against ourselves or against those whose independence we have undertaken to defend."

KING'S MESSAGE

The King's message, after expressing pleasure at the marchpast, said: "To us it was a most impressive demonstration of the spirit of service which is everywhere present in the nation today, and which shows itself in the determination to make the country ready to meet any emergency, whatever the sacrifices or inconveniences entailed."

His Majesty, who with the Queen earlier in the day had attended divine service at Westminster Abbey, where thanks were offered for their safe return from the Canadian tour and prayers said for preservation of peace, closed his message with the hope "that nations may learn to live together in fellowship and harmony."

LEBRUN APPEALS TO MAN-IN-STREET

PARIS (CP)—President Albert Lebrun yesterday issued a new warning against aggression as Premier Edouard Daladier conferred with General Marie-Gustave Gamelin, who returned to his Paris headquarters during the week-end after inspecting French defences on the Italian frontier.

The President appealed to "men in the street" all over Europe, saying:

"France believes that if the people could themselves voice their opinion in a really sincere plebiscite, most of them would join the western democracies in their efforts to organize a peace front. And she still hopes that if evil dictates that the world must once more ring to the clash of arms, they will be used once again in the triumph of the principles of freedom, justice and law."

He spoke at Montpellier, while the defence consultations were in progress at Paris.

Without mentioning Germany, Italy or the Danzig issue, the President said:

"In the duel engaged for the salvation or destruction of civilization—built up by centuries of human suffering and effort—France has taken sides.

"She is for the respect of law and international agreement, and against all policies of force and violation of frontiers and of the independence of the weak.

"France intends that conflicts of interests between peoples shall be resolved by peaceful procedure and friendly settlement without recourse to arms."

But the President added: "'Arm, unite, stand guard'—that was the watchword the Premier gave yesterday to the nation from the parliamentary tribune. It is on that watchword that citizens who look to the salvation of the Fatherland must base their conduct.'"

Danzig Payments to Foreigners Blocked

Bondholders in the United States, Great Britain and the Netherlands are effected principally.

All Danzig gulden payments to foreigners will go into blocked accounts just as is done in Germany and investors will receive in return certificates on Danzig devisen banks for the amounts due them. Transfer of payments abroad is impossible.

Mobilization Order To Danzig Workers

DANZIG (AP) — Danzig took measures today for mobilization of its workers for labor "vital to the state" in case of emergency growing out of the sharpened Polish-German differences over the Free City and Pomorze (the Polish Corridor).

An order published by the senate this afternoon provided that workers may be recruited for industries which the senate holds to be essential for the welfare of the community.

It explained that such industries as shipbuilding, which faced a shortage of labor, might benefit by the order.

In Danzig's political and government services there was a new note of nervousness, reflecting uncertainty and lack of information, but there were no signs of new developments of a military nature.

"You see, the German putsch of last week-end, so widely publicized in the British press, did not take place," one Danzig official observed.

Bohemian Cities Lose Their Councils

PRAGUE (AP) — Baron Konstantin von Neurath, the Reich's protector of Bohemia and Moravia, decreed tonight the removal of five city governments to "make amends for measures taken 20 years ago by the Czech regime."

The governments of the cities of Budweis, Bruenn, Iglau, Maehrisch-Ostrau and Olmuetz were dissolved, effective immediately, and government commissioners appointed to take charge.

Duce Suggested as Europe Mediator

PARIS (CP-Havas) — Le Journal today published a dispatch from its Rome correspondent saying Italians expect a "nice little conference" to end current international tension and believe Premier Mussolini will offer himself at the last minute as a mediator.

"Italians say that when the alliance with the Reich was signed, Mussolini specified that Italy could not pledge herself to give Germany military support if the Reich provoked a conflagration by an armed coup in the Free City and the Polish Corridor," the article declared.

"Some even affirm the Italian government has obtained assurances from its friend Hitler that he will try nothing of this sort. That is the present opinion in Rome."

Chamberlain Talks With Envoy to Poland

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain today had a 40-minute talk with Sir Howard Kennard, British ambassador at Warsaw, who returned to London Friday with the latest information of Poland's position regarding Danzig.

It was disclosed that Sir Nevile Henderson, British ambassador in Berlin, would arrive in London by airplane tomorrow. It also was stated a report had been received from Sir William Seeds, British ambassador in Moscow, on his conversations with Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff regarding the proposed British-French-Russian mutual assistance pact.

Mr. Chamberlain told the Commons he did not think it advisable to make any further statement now on the negotiations with Russia since the Soviet government was considering the latest proposals.

The Foreign Office's only comment was that "progress has been made," and it was said further talks in the Russian capital were expected in a day or two.

Churchill Mentioned For Cabinet Post

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain, described in usually well-informed quarters as "seriously considering" reinforcing the cabinet by the inclusion of Winston Churchill, went to Buckingham Palace at noon today and was received by the King, with whom he talked for an hour.

It was not known whether he informed the King of an approaching cabinet reconstruction or gave him a general outline of the week-end alarms over Danzig—or both.

It was understood the Prime Minister was thinking of inviting Mr. Churchill, wartime cabinet minister, into the government and it was deemed likely that if he had come to a decision it first would be communicated to the King.

The Daily Telegraph, Conservative, advocated Winston Churchill's inclusion in the cabinet to impress "more profoundly the axis powers with the conviction that this country means business." Chancellor Hitler last fall referred to Mr. Churchill as one of the "men who would like to make war."

Hitler to Meet Bulgarian Premier

BERLIN (AP) — Adolf Hitler suddenly headed back to Berlin today to bulwark Germany's policy of making friends in the Balkans during the three-day state visit of the Bulgarian Prime Minister, George Kiosseivanoff, starting Wednesday.

The Fuehrer's return to the capital was the first since June 7, when he moved his headquarters to Berchtesgaden for the summer. Hitler attended a funeral yesterday in Hamburg.

His return marked a change in the original plan for receiving the Bulgarian premier and indicated the importance German leaders attach to his visit.

FIRM TONE IN BRITISH PRESS

Unanimity on Need of Preparedness Against Aggression

Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON — With conscious unanimity the British press has launched broadsides to convince public opinion at home—and in Germany—that Danzig is worth a war and involves an issue vital both to Poland and Great Britain.

At the same time some sections of the press attributed strong rumors of a projected Nazi coup in the Free City during the past week-end to a German attempt to test British and French firmness in what was called "a war of nerves."

There was speculation whether the Anglo-French barrage of warnings had an effect in postponing or averting a crisis over Danzig. But memory of the situation in May, 1938, four months before the Czechslovak crisis, dampened any feeling of optimism in British circles.

At that time rumors swept Europe that Germany planned a swift coup to bring the Sudetenland into the Reich. Britain and France resounded with military precautions and warnings. The result encouraged feeling in some quarters that Hitler had been "frightened off."

Yet the crisis came later, in September, and the Munich conference enabled Hitler to achieve dismemberment of Czechoslovakia.

PREPAREDNESS

That dismemberment formed the keynote of today's explanations of why Danzig is so vital to Poland and Britain alike. The similarity of all these explanations indicated they were a part of a preparedness campaign.

The public was told that Hitler was not interested in Danzig merely because it was a German city, but for strategic reasons. He wants it, the British press said with one voice, because it would give him a stranglehold on Poland and enable him to dismember that country in the same way he broke up Czechslovakia.

The fate of the latter republic was pointed to as proof that Hitler's claims of "self-determination" for the Sudetenland were used only as a means to an end. As for Danzig, British writers recalled the words of Frederick the Great that whoever holds the mouth of the Vistula River is more a master of Poland than her own government.

Tension, But No War

NEW YORK—"I think the chances are there will be no war, but I believe there will be a good deal of tension over the Danzig question before the summer is over," said James G. Bland, president of the Marine Trust Co., on his arrival aboard the Queen Mary today.

Mr. Blaine, one of the highest authorities in international finance, has been in Europe during the last two months studying conditions and contacting key men. He added he believed "the Danzig question can be negotiated."

Wants Grant for Canadian Authors

HALIFAX (CP)—A government grant to the Canadian Authors' Association "would mean that at least the creative arts would be reckoned, in this country, as a vital item in our list of commodities for home consumption and export," Leslie Gordon Barnard of Montreal said today.

The noted author, in his presidential address at the opening session of the 18th annual meeting and national convention of the authors' association, said that it was "saddening to see the amounts spent on projects of little promise, even a tithe of which would make possible a definite advance in the creative arts."

About 100 delegates from all parts of the Dominion registered.

EMPIRE NEWS TOTALS COMPARED

LONDON (CP)—The Times questions the correctness of a comparison between the amount of British news in Dominion newspapers and the amount of Canadian or Australian news published in Great Britain. The newspaper said editorially today:

"The Empire Press Union conference was occupied yesterday discussing how far newspapers can help their readers in one part of the Empire to follow and understand what is going on in other parts.

"In both Canada and Australia there is a general tendency, which was reflected in yesterday's discussion, to compare the amount of British news given in Dominion newspapers with the amount of Canadian or Australian news published in Great Britain, but the comparison is not altogether valid.

"A very different impression is given if a comparison is made of the space given in British newspapers to Canada or Australia with that given by Canadian newspapers to Australian affairs or by Australian newspapers to events and opinions in Canada."

Canada Honored At Treasure Island

Pattullo Speaks at San Francisco Fair; Victoria Girls Parade

TREASURE ISLAND, San Francisco Bay—Dominion Day was celebrated at the World's Fair here. British Columbia and the United States joined hands at this island, the principal guest of honor being Premier T. D. Pattullo, representative for the day of all Canada, accompanied by Mrs. Pattullo.

On the arrival of the official and his party, the visiting detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, commanded by Colonel T. H. Irvine, formed a guard of honor.

President Leland W. Cutler of the exposition and Major J. Keating, director of governmental participations, welcomed Premier Pattullo and his party, who motored here from Victoria

In the afternoon a parade, included in which were the Mounted Police, the Victoria Girls' Drill Team, Canadian Legion posts, the Vancouver Elgar Band, kiltie and exposition bands and marching units of the various Canadian organizations of the Bay area, was reviewed from a stand opposite the Federal Plaza.

Premier Pattullo brought greetings from British Columbia and various governmental, fair and civic officials of California also participated. Miss Victoria and her attendants, who were escorted by the Victoria Girls' Drill Team, were presented to the assembled delegates.

Tomorrow the girls' drill unit, under the direction of Captain Norman Foster, will compete against other teams from various sections of the United States in a monster competition.

CANADA-U.S. TIES STRESSED AT FAIR

Euler Speaks at Dominion Day Event at New York Exposition

By SAM ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK—The cordial relations existing between Canada and the United States and the hope that the bickering old world may profit by the example, formed an overtone to the observance of Dominion Day in this city.

Hon. W. D. Euler, Canadian Minister of Trade and commerce, sounded that keynote in a speech delivered from the steps of the Canadian pavilion at the New York World's Fair. It was taken up by speakers representing the United States and New York City.

In honor of the 72nd anniversary of Confederation, Saturday was "Canada Day" at the fair and the Canadian building, formally dedicated by Mr. Euler, was the focal point of the exercises.

The Canadian destroyers Skeena and Saguenay were at anchor in New York harbor and 250 men and officers, immaculate in summer white, paraded at the fair. A troop of Royal Canadian Mounted Police performed a dashing musical ride to the cheers of 10,000 in the fair's Court of Peace.

The speeches of Mr. Euler and the others were broadcast internationally, and were heard by more than a thousand invited guests who sat under a brilliant July sun in the plaza facing the snow-white Canadian Pavilion.

Charles M. Spofford, assistant United States commissioner-general to the fair, speaking of the recent visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth to the United States, said "it was not necessary for our government to urge our citizens to appear in the streets and cheer. They came by the millions and thundered their approval."

Aberhart Scores Mortgage Bank

Says Federal Act Places Load of $360,000,000 On Taxpayers

EDMONTON (CP)—Charging the federal bill to establish a central mortgage bank may create a powerful mortgage debt monopoly that would deprive people of their property rights and liberties, Premier Aberhart today issued a statement expressing the Alberta government's belief the act should not be proclaimed.

The act was a "clever piece of legislation which is intended evidently to strengthen the stranglehold of the financial institutions upon the people of this great, wealthy country and thereby still further deprive them most effectively of the remnants of their economic security and property rights," the Premier said.

The taxpayers, if the act came into force, would be called upon to meet enormous obligations, said the statement. They would be called upon to shoulder 50 per cent of the total interest arrears reductions and interest at 3 per cent over 20 years. "The mortgage companies will therefore receive ultimately the total interest on all their mortgages," it said.

The taxpayers also would have to shoulder 50 per cent of all reductions in principal and in addition interest at 3 per cent for 20 years," Premier Aberhart's statement added. "The mortgage companies therefore will receive ultimately the total principal reductions," it added.

In addition, the taxpayers would have to meet $10,000,000 out of unappropriated moneys in the consolidated revenue fund—"that is to say, the balance left over in the fund from money already borrowed by the federal government at 3.24 per cent. This, of course, and the interest must be repaid through taxation and over a period of 20 to 30 years, will double itself."

TOTAL $800,000,000

The statement estimated the total mortgage indebtedness held by the mortgage institutions in Canada is about $800,000,000. Under a reasonable adjustment, said the statement, it could be expected that the reduction in accumulated interest charges would be $200,000,000.

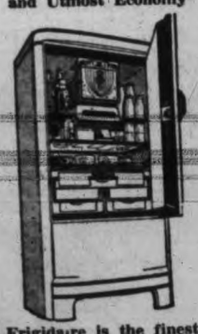

This would mean that the taxpayers of Canada would have to assume $10,000,000, plus compound interest at 3 per cent per annum paid over 20 years, which would amount to $182,000,000," the statement said.

In addition to that there would probably be another $200,000,000 reduction in principal, involving a burden of $100,000,000 which the taxpayers would have to assume, together with 3 per cent per annum interest paid over 20 years, which would amount to another $182,000,000."

The Premier's statement said this would total over $360,000,000 which the Canadian taxpayers would have to provide "to bolster up and make gilt-edged the investments of these mortgage institutions."

OFFICIAL STORY OF ROYAL TOUR

OTTAWA (CP) — An official chronicle of the Royal tour will be compiled shortly by Dr. Gustave Lanctot, Dominion archivist, who accompanied the Royal party throughout Canada for the purpose of observing it at first-hand.

In his book-lined office in the archives building here Dr. Lanctot is styding a huge mass of newspaper clippings and dispatches from which he will glean material for the historical record.

Throughout the tour the Canadian Press preserved for Dr. Lanctot's use copies of all dispatches carried on its leased wires covering the Royal tour.

In addition to these the archives obtained clippings of reports written by the newspaper correspondents who covered the tour and which were published in the daily papers. A search was made through Canadian newspapers in the weeks following the tour for the purpose of obtaining reports of incidents which came to light only after the Royal party had passed along.

The exact form of the history has not yet been decided, according to Dr. Lanctot. It will attempt to present the complete story of the tour and will probably include a selection of pictures from the thousands of photographs taken and preserved by the motion picture bureau.

FRAGMENTS OF METEOR HUNTED

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Portland, jolted and terrified by an exploding meteor, joined science in a search for fragments of the celestial visitor today.

The Portand area and southwestern Washington were rocked at 7.58 yesterday morning by the mammoth explosion and blinded by flames flashing from the sky. Reports of the blast came in from as far away as Arlington, 125 miles up the Columbia River.

J. Hugh Pruett, University of Oregon astronomer and Oregon representative of the American Meteorological Association, sifted reports of the meteor's trajectory as hundreds of amateurs took to the field in efforts to find fragments of the heavenly body.

Pruett said it probably would be two weeks before he could determine just where the explosion occurred.

Portland residents, however, will swear it was right over the city. A stone wall was toppled, windows were broken, a store wall cracked and rural mail box knocked loose from its post by the force of the blast.

Witnesses said the meteor flashed across the sky from the southward, trailing a tail of fire, just before the explosion. Hundreds of persons verified that the burst of smoke and flame appeared to be over the northern section of the city or the Columbia River at a height of about 5,000 feet.

POLICE CHIEFS URGE NEW LAWS

Canadian Association Suggests Registration To Trace Transients

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — The 35th annual convention of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada ended last night after the delegates had selected Halifax as site of the 1940 meeting.

Inspector George S. Guthrie of Toronto, was the unanimous choice as president of the association for 1939-1940. Inspector Guthrie, nearing his 41st anniversary in police work, succeeded George R. Shea, head of the Canadian National Railways investigation department at Montreal, who was named secretary-treasurer.

Chief George Smith of Winnipeg and Chief J. J. Conrod of Halifax, were unanimous choices for first and second vice-president, respectively.

Members of the executive committee chosen include: British Columbia, Chief John Laurie of Trail.

Brig.-Gen. D. C. Draper, Toronto chief, was named head of a committee to seek representation of the association on the remissions (parole) branch of the department of justice.

The legislation committee was asked to seek federal legislation compelling restitution of property after conviction on a false pretences charge. Customs and postal departments of Canada were urged to make a closer check on importation of obscene literature in one of six resolutions passed.

Toronto Chinese Broadcasts Apology

TORONTO (CP)—Wong Fook-yuen, Toronto Chinese who last week was attacked and allegedly robbed by his compatriots as a "traitor" to his native land, last night broadcast by loudspeaker a 15-minute apology, accompanied by a fireworks display, to several hundred of his neighbors gathered near the Chinese Patriotic Federation headquarters in Toronto's "Chinatown."

The federation decreed in a special meeting that only by apologizing to the Chinese community and dropping his charges against two men arrested for attacking him could a peaceful settlement of the feud be reached.

Police believed the violence last week was caused by disagreement between Wong and other Chinese about the use of funds levied from Chinese merchants here for the cause of Gen. Chiang Kai-shek.

WOULD PUT CHECK ON CONSCRIPTION

Canadian Youth Congress Urges Changes In Militia Act

WINNIPEG (CP) — Abolition of the Dominion Government's power to conscript young men without reference to Parliament is demanded in a resolution passed by the commission on peace policy during week-end activities of the fourth Canadian Youth Congress.

Such action should be taken, the resolution says, through immediate repeal of sections of the Militia Act permitting conscription of a certain class by order-in-council.

Delegates, however, voted in favor of conscription in the event Canada was attacked, and also in favor of conscription if the Dominion participated in a war against aggressor nations.

David Macdonald of the Vancouver delegation urged a return to a policy of collectivve security. He charged the British government had aided the Fascist nations and had tried to make these nations stronger ever since 1930, even to the extent of breaking the League of Nations. He declared the Canadian government had co-operated with the British administration in this policy.

John Stanton, also of Vancouver, denounced what he termed "the shyster tricks of the British government in allowing territory to be handed over to the dictators."

Phrasing of the Statute of Westminster was criticized by the youth, who said it led the Dominions to think they were sovereign states, but since they were associated, it was inevitable that they should follow the lead of the strongest and central member of the Commonwealth in foreign policy.

Canada should have an independent foreign policy and her defence forces, now merely auxiliary units of Britain's defence forces, should be independently controlled, he said.

The commission on Canadian unity voted for equalization of citizenship and educational privileges for all British subjects in the Dominion, regardless of race or creed. A resolution, sponsored by B. R. Coleman of Winnipeg and approved without opposition, asks that any racial or religious group be allotted its proportionate share of school taxation for the maintenance of its own school system.

Another resolution urges the Dominion government to enforce existing legislation against agents of foreign powers opposed to democracy who are penetrating Canada and threatening national unity.

Alberta Auto Accidents

CALGARY (CP) — Thirteen persons required medical attention following automobile accidents in Calgary and on nearby highways during the week-end, police said.

Most serious crashes occurred on the Banff trail 16 miles west of Calgary Saturday when a car driven by Thomas Knight of Calgary turned over in the ditch.

Injured in the accident were Cyril Thompson, 35, of Midnapore; Thomas Knight, 35; Mrs. Knight, Mrs. F. Lloyd and Miss Pearl Dixon, 20, all of Calgary. Thompson was confined to Holy Cross Hospital here.

Telling the Government

IT HAS REMAINED FOR MR. J. L. Garvin—editor of the Sunday Observer (London) since 1908 and at one time one of the most stalwart advocates of appeasement of Germany—to add weight to the unanimous demand in Britain that Danzig shall not be stolen from Poland. Here are the words the famous Conservative editor used in yesterday's issue of Viscount Astor's widely-read weekly:

"If Britain shirked the first test and bilked her pledges, no one in the world would believe that we had the guts for any test. Our name would smell. Our diplomatic connections would dissolve. Our repute would perish. We should be counted out of the ranks of really great powers. Ascendancy in Europe, Africa and Asia would belong to the axis alliance and its confederates."

In some quarters in Britain, of course, there has been a feeling that "Danzig is German anyway" and not worth going to war about. The reply to this is that "the next war" would be no more fought over this Baltic port than the last one was fought over an assassinated archduke in Sarajevo. But Danzig is at the mouth of the Vistula, and it was Frederick the Great who said that whoever held it would be master of Poland—and Danzig in the hands of Hitler would be an important step toward the ruthless throttling of the Polish republic. As one "personal investigator" put it recently:

"Poland has a slender throat that stretches upwards to the sea.

"With Danzig in their full possession, the leaders of the new Germany have their forefinger laid upon that throat; and the strong, experienced thumb will fall too easily upon Gdynia, Poland's only other outlet to the sea.

"Once Danzig is German and Gdynia helpless, Poland cannot breathe for long.

"She would be suffocated.

"What would her suffocation mean?

"Her suffocation would mean German domination of Europe.

"It would mean that even a united Britain and France would be helpless against further avaricious demands."

Germany quite naturally hopes to cripple Poland financially by obliging her to keep partially mobilized. But Poland does not appear to be worrying on this account. Her people are contributing freely to the cost of defence. Only the other day an appeal for 100,000,000 zlotys for strengthening the air force resulted in an immediate subscription of more than 400,000,000—all this from a people who are not materially rich. And it is worth noting, incidentally, that Germany's "war of nerves" is being waged on a people who are "poor" in another way—the Poles do not know what nerves are.

Well may it be said, therefore, that there could be only one way to shake the Polish people, and that would be if the democracies sat idly by while the Reich took Danzig. Hence, the words of J. L. Garvin, in agreement with the press of Britain generally, no doubt will help to keep the Chamberlain government's back stiff.

Playing On a Word

ONE OF THE TRUEST THINGS LORD Halifax said in his speech on Thursday was that Germany is isolating herself, and doing it most successfully and completely—economically by her policy of autarchy, politically by the policy which causes constant anxiety to other nations, and culturally by her policy of racialism.

Much loose talk about "encirclement" has been indulged in by the spokesmen of Britain and Germany. Both the British Prime Minister and his Foreign Secretary have frequently asserted that such a policy is ridiculous. It is scarcely ridiculous, and there is no reason why it should be considered so. A maniac is at large and the British and French plan is the forging of a chain that will completely embrace the area in which he is likely to run amok. He is to be given no chance to escape. Anything less than the precaution now being taken would be futile. But this does not weaken the force of Viscount Halifax's statement that Germany is isolating herself. It is becauuse Nazi policy is one of aggression—by force or "by ingenuity"—that the democracies are employing the only practical means of preventing further trespass with force.

If Reichsfuehrer Hitler chooses to belabor the term "encirclement," and use it as an argument to persuade the German people that he should be allowed to break through all barriers, there is no point in trying to dissuade him. He knows perfectly well, but it naturally does not suit him to admit it, that he can obtain relaxation of the intent and purpose of the "Stop Hitler" bloc by agreeing to discuss, in an atmosphere of decency and fair play, what he still considers are vital problems affecting the good and welfare of the Third Reich.

Every time the head of the Nazi state prates about "encirclement" he is merely drawing attention to the fact that the democracies, caught napping and fooled once, have seen through the Hitlerian plan and are determined—in the interests of world order and, let it not be forgotten, in the interests of [illegible] people—to yield to

He Earned His Reward

FORTY-ONE YEARS AGO A YOUNG farm boy in an eastern county met with a serious accident in the midst of his high school studies. It was so serious that he could not continue his educational training. His name was Ivar Stuejord—and he had ambitions.

Gradually this young man recovered his health and went to work as a farm hand. The disappointment of not getting that high school diploma was keen at first. Then it passed into the background as day succeeded day, and season followed season with the round of each year's work on the farm. But Ivar never forgot that uncompleted high school course. Something inside him kept repeating, "There are things you would want to know, Ivor. It is a big world, a wonderful world. Beyond this farm, beyond this county, beyond this nation, and beyond our time, there are things, wonderful things that would make all life look different if you knew them. You want to know something about them, Ivar."

Then somebody told Ivar about a way in which he could study at home and learn something about the world from which he had been shut out so many years before. And Ivar resolved to go ahead. He was getting on into late middle age. The habit of study had been practically obliterated by the long years behind plough and harrow. But the dream of understanding his world was strong within him, and Ivar plunged into evenings of study, minutes snatched between chores, Sunday afternoons buried in prescribed books.

The other day he finished the work. The studies begun 41 years before were completed. He had broken the bars which had closed him off from that other world—he had achieved the desire that had smouldered so long within him. To what end? Not, perhaps, that Ivar will ever leave the farm, now. Not that he will ever "get a better job" or, perhaps, make any practical application of the things he has learned. But a zeal for understanding which 41 years of grinding farm toil cannot kill contains its own reward.

To understand, for the sake of our own peace of mind, as much as we can of the wonderful and mysterious world about us—that is in itself something worth all the years and all the dreaming of Ivar Stuejord, or of any other man.

They Had Plenty of Room

IN A VANCOUVER CONTEMPORARY'S "40 years ago" column we note the following:

The Daily World editorially called on the civic authorities to establish a set policy of sequestering ample space for public parks while the city was still young and property cheap.

Forty years afterward, at a meeting of health authorities in the same city of Vancouver, much was said about overcrowded housing conditions, malnutrition, and other things associated with a state of affairs which men of earlier days hoped to avoid.

Town planning in this young country has been sadly neglected. Vancouver's pioneers evidently were thinking of "lebensraum" 40 years ago.

Let Italy Rave

WHEN IT WAS SUGGESTED IN THE House of Commons that the British government should protest to Italy in consequence of bitter newspaper attacks on Great Britain, Prime Minister Chamberlain replied he would do so if he thought it would do any good.

That was about as good a reply as could be made. What Signor Gayda—Mussolini's journalistic mouthpiece—says now matters very little. The best thing to do is to let him use up all the space he likes, say practically what he wants, until he gives it up as a bad job.

Italy knows by this time—if she does not she ought to—that the only method left to her to make good her wordy threats is to take such action as she feels will get her what she wants. That will be the signal for the kind of British protest which will mean something. And it will not do Italy any good.

A musical literate is a person who on first hearing of a new swing number can tell from what dead master it was stolen.

It might be worse. The airguns and other juvenile play armaments are not yet modernized to fire 200 pellets a minute.

CANADA NEEDS THESE NEW JOB-MAKERS

From Financial Post

Out of Europe's turmoil and uncertainties Canada has an opportunity to become one of the world's greatest industrial centres for export trade. In the flight of industry from war-threatened countries of Europe, Canada has presented to her the greatest opportunity in a generation. Will she be wise enough to grasp the opportunity?

European industries, when well supplied with capital and technical ability, when aiming to use Canada as a basis for export operations, should be not only welcomed but invited to establish in Canada. If they do not come here they will go elsewhere. We shall lose the employment, the export trade and the income that they would bring us.

This is not a question of sympathy to refugees. It is a question of sympathy for distressed, unemployed Canadians for whom we shall never find jobs unless this country can be made to grow.

There has been no real progress in Canada for 10 years—outside of the gold mining industry. The country is sluggishly fighting a losing battle against rising debt and disappointing national income. If we do not start to move ahead soon we shall go behind quickly. The opportunity of obtaining new industries from Europe is one we should grasp without delay and without timidity.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

TWO MEALS

IN VANCOUVER the other day I attended two public meals. One was in the Vancouver Hotel, where some of the prominent citizens of the town sat down together for luncheon. They talked loudly and with animation about the troubles of the world, which they did not understand. They ate a lot of food for which their stomachs were not equipped by nature. Then they listened to a speaker who didn't know what he was talking about (a point on which I have personal reason to be certain) and they clapped their hands and hurried away to pursue their toil. The whole thing was depressing in the extreme.

Then I went out to Lulu Island with a farmer and watched another meal. This man's beautiful Jersey herd was having its dinner, 100 animals together in their stalls. They did not hurry and fuss. They did not eat a lot of food for which their stomachs were not equipped. They did not talk about a lot of things they did not understand. They did not listen to a speaker who didn't know what he was talking about. They weren't worried about anything. They ate their dinner calmly and then went about their business of delivering several hundred quarts of fine Jersey milk.

And, looking them over, the beautiful serenity of their faces, their calm, thoughtful eyes, their superb coats and delicately-moulded forms, I thought how much superior they are to the species which walks on two legs and impoverishes the world, where the Jerseys enrich it. Of the two meals, the one on Lulu Island was certainly the more enjoyable and the more informative.

IN ENGLAND

THE NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS of the Empire have been gathering in London lately and deploring the fact that the British press is not interested in the Empire. This is perfectly true. The average Englishman might live to be 90, and, unless he read more than his daily paper, might hardly suspect that there was any Empire and might well imagine, as millions of Englishmen do, that British Columbia is in South America or a suburb of Los Angeles.

Apart from a few high-class papers, with small circulations, the metropolitan press of Britain is pretty bad. It might surprise a lot of people in this town to know that they get five times as much world news every night in this newspaper as they can get in the Daily Mail or the Daily Express, the great papers of London. And we have the added advantage here that we are not reading in every column, including the want ads, the personal prejudices, ambitions and distortions of some noble press lords. On the whole, the press of Canada is infinitely superior to that of Britain with a few brilliant exceptions like The Times of London and the Guardian. But few Englishmen read them.

Some of the Empire editors urged at their conference that governments should take them more into their confidence, to prevent false impressions getting about, and, apparently, to tone down news of crises which give aid and comfort to the dictators. Already the British press, as in the abdication of King Edward, has imposed a certain measure of voluntary censorship on itself. Apparently working against dictatorships, democracy cannot always trust the people and must abdicate, partially at least. Thus in politics as in economics you have the old Gresham law at work. Just as good money is forced out of circulation by bad money, so good systems are forced out of circulation by bad ones. You have to fight the devil with fire and you always get burned.

UNHOLY BARGAIN

"WELL, THE LATEST," said the little girl from next door, "is pretty bad. You heard about the Bible, I suppose?"

I said I had heard about the Bible, but had never heard it in connection with the people next door.

"Well, he," said she, meaning, of course, no one but her erring young brother, "he won a watch at the school sports. Some silly thing like high jumping. But he had a watch, so he traded the new watch to a boy who had won a Bible. He said he didn't want a Bible, but there was no use having two watches and he couldn't trade the watch for a knife or anything useful so he had to take the Bible."

"It was a good Bible," said he. "It had pictures of Moses. He had a white beard. He looked like Mr. Hodgins."

"You shouldn't make use of holy things," said she. "And what do you think he did next? He got tired of Moses and the Bible and he went back to school and made the boy take back the Bible and give him the watch. Now he's got two watches and no Bible. That's how holy he is."

"Haw," said he.

"But this is the point," said she. "He goes and gives away his Bible for a miserable watch, that's how holy he is, but now he's got two watches he won't give me one. He might as well have kept the Bible."

ANN SLEEPS

My baby sleeps in sweet repose;
Like crumpled petals of a rose
Against her cheek, her wee hands lie,
And vagrant sunbeams passing by
Turn into living wonder where
They touch the tendrils of her hair.

My baby sleeps; her eyes as blue
As heaven's own clear azure hue,
Are closed in dreams so soft and sweet
As only are for angels meet,
And guarding angels pause awhile
To watch the wonder of her smile.

Lawyers' Dream of Heaven

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

PRIVY COUNCIL APPEALS

THE HIGH-PRICED lawyers have been having a wonderful time before the Supreme Court arguing whether or not the Canadian Parliament has the right to abolish appeals to the Privy Council. This subject may be said to represent a lawyer's dream of heaven. The argument never ends and the fees go on forever. I never yet saw any law passed by any Canadian legislative body which lawyers were not ready to challenge as being invalid almost as soon as the ink was dry on the paper.

Not only was it always possible to hire lawyers to argue on every side of every conceivable such subject. But on some occasions the self-same political lawyers argued on both sides of the same question only a few years apart. The classic example was Sir Oliver Mowat. As Premier of Ontario he was the great champion of Provincial Rights. He carried his fights against the federal authority right to the Privy Council. He won several great victories—that is "great" from the standpoint of the political lawyers as contrasted with the taxpayers. Then, after many years, the Liberals came into power at Ottawa. Mowat became Laurier's Minister of Justice. And what did he do? He turned right around and argued against those things he had been arguing for as Premier of Ontario. He marshaled telling arguments in defence of the federal prerogative. If somebody had thought of them before the decisions of the Privy Council on the so-called provincial rights things might have been very different.

In Canada many people laugh at that sort of thing. It is all part of the political racket. But to me it is anything but a laughing matter. I think Canada has about the silliest constitution in the world. Not even yet do the greatest experts know what the Dominion can do and cannot do, and what the provinces can do and cannot do. All we are sure of is what the lawyers will do.

That is why Canada seems to me to be a political lawyers' paradise and a taxpayers' hell. For all this never-ending argument costs plenty. The farmer in the Okanagan, the storekeeper in the small town and the consumer everywhere—these are the people who pay for the legal circus.

Naturally very few lawyers want to see the end of appeals to the Privy Council. When a lawyer is selected to argue a case before that august chamber, he is from then on a "big shot." He is not only in the big money, but he has that prestige in the profession which means so much in any walk of life.

The absurd system will survive until the Parliament of Canada has the same powers as the Parliament of Great Britain to legislate on anything that is of concern to all the people it represents. Meanwhile Canadians should remember that nobody outside Canada is responsible for the ridiculous situation. Successive British governments have expressed their willingness to ask the British Parliament to amend the British North America Act in any necessary respect as soon as Canada herself knew what she wanted in that regard.

I hear rumors from Ottawa to the effect that the Rowell Commission is not agreed as to the principles of the changes to be recommended for the purpose of clarifying Dominion - Provincial relations. If that is so, the outlook is not good. For if the experts chosen to do that very job cannot do it, the laymen outside are not likely to succeed any better.

Hitler's Dilemma

Henry C. Wolfe (author of "The German Octopus"), in July Mercury.

Assuming that Paris and London are in earnest this time, will the Fuhrer drop his imperial ambitions? Or fight?

Nazi Germany has reached the crossroads where Hitler must make a transcendentally important decision. If he follows the road of empire toward domination of Europe, he must expect a fight. But to stop where he is now is to leave the job only half done; it is to turn his back on the ambitions—and the economic compulsions—that are the driving power of the Third Reich. Indeed, to stop now would be to lose many of the advantages of the "bloodless" victories that have won for Germany the territories of Austria, Czechoslovakia and Memel. It is the writer's conviction that Hitler will fight—that he must fight.

A dictator holds his position by prestige. Once Hitler surrendered to Franco-British opposition he would invite defiance from even the small nations that are his prospective victims. If he gave up his plans for a great Nazi empire, some contemporary Captain Rohm might attempt to displace him. At all costs, therefore, Hitler, must preserve his prestige. If this means war, then he will wage war.

There are other compelling reasons why Hitler does not dare to back down. For the last six years his propaganda has dangled before the German people the bait of economic abundance. Tighten your belts today, he has told them, and tomorrow there will be plenty for everybody. Germany is living on what are really war rations. These sacrifices are being borne now in expectation of promised prosperity. To fulfill this promise the imperial dream must be realized in all its vastness.

Parallel Thoughts

Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled but a little. Blessed are all they that put their trust in him.—Psalms 2:12.

Trust in God does not supersede the employment of prudent means on our part. To expect God's protection while we do nothing is not to honor but to tempt providence.—Quesnel.

WONDER DRUG

From Toronto Star

The new drug, sulfanilamide, which is proving to be a wonderful remedy for pneumonia and streptococci infections, has to be made and used with great care. Enough is known about it to suggest that it is one of the outstanding medical discoveries of the century. It comes as close to being a panacea for human ills as anything that can be mentioned. Some day the world, no doubt, will be given what it wants most of all, and that is a cure for cancer.

JESUS NOT A JEW?

To the Editor:—Mr. Moyes' letter did not seem to be so much concerned about Jesus being a Jew as he was in criticizing British-Israel and the theory that they resort to the tombs of heathen kings in the Pyramids of Egypt for their prophetic symbols. Well, there is only one Pyramid as far as B.-I. is interested—the Pyramid of Gizeh. That, as stated in Isaiah 19:19-20, is an altar to the Lord in the midst of the land of Egypt for a sign and for a witness to the Lord of Hosts. No need to ask if B.-I. thinks the Egyptians are a chosen people if one will follow down in the chapter and find the condemnation that was to be directed on Egypt. If B.-I. is childish, there is no need to be worried about its being such a danger to international politics, the ungodly, etc. This is too large a subject to expect the newspapers to give space for our individual opinions when there are two B.-I. bookrooms in the city where one can get a concordance of 1,400 references for B.-I. believers. D. R. BREMNER.

Artistic Display of Weaving Opened

Dr. K. C. MacDonald Opens W.I. Guild Exhibit at Empress

Beautiful examples of the recently revived art of hand-weaving are on display in the Duke of Kent private dining suite at the Empress Hotel, where the W.I. Weavers' Guild is holding its second annual exhibition.

Dr. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, formally opened the exhibition this afternoon at 3, commending the Victoria Women's Institute for its initiative in reviving the old crafts and stimulating interest in the so-called cottage industries, to which British Columbia products lent themselves so admirably. Mrs. J. L. White, president of the guild, introduced the minister.

In addition to lovely examples of the work of Victoria and island residents who make hand-weaving their hobby, the exhibition includes displays from eastern Canada and from the United States.

The Quebec School of Handicrafts is represented with a display, including a lovely bedspread in blue and white; the Canadian Handicrafts Guild of Montreal sends some exquisite specimens of their work, among them a handwoven coverlet in delicate tones of green and grey, and a handspun and handwoven bedthrow in cool green and white. The Vancouver Weavers' Guild has a varied collection of handbags, scarfs, towels and materials.

California has taken up the art of hand-weaving in earnest, and the Golden Gate Weavers of Alameda are represented by a beautiful coverlet in winter and summer weave, while Stockton, California, also sends an interesting exhibit. The Seattle Weavers' Guild has also loaned a number of attractive pieces.

The W.I. Weavers' Guild, which sponsored the exhibition, is showing some attractive handspun and handwoven bed and couch throws, scarfs, curtains, handbags and dress materials, the excellent finish and artistic colors reflecting the tremendous strides made in the art locally.

Several commercial exhibits round out the display, including that of the Island Weavers, featuring fascinating tweeds and other dress materials, and the Squire Studio, Cedar, V.I.

The exhibition will be open daily from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., until Wednesday evening.

Pastel Motif Marks Lovely Wedding Held Today

Miss June Scurrah Petite Bride of Mr. Gordon Halkett

The pastel tones of early summer flowers furnished the motif for the floral decorations and the gowns of the bride's retinue at the pretty ceremony which drew a large congregation to the Metropolitan Church this afternoon at 2, when Doreen June, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy B. Scurrah of King George Terrace, became the bride of William Gordon Halkett, only son of Mr. Gordon Halkett, 1206 Fairfield Road, and the late Mrs. Halkett.

MASSES OF FLOWERS

The rostrum was banked with standards and baskets of Van Vliet roses, Belladonna delphinium, snapdragons, valerian, Canterbury bells and carnations, and the guest pews were marked with small Colonial bouquets of pastel flowers tied with white satin ribbons, the decorations being under the direction of Mrs. S. J. Willis.

Rev. Dr. W. J. Sipprell performed the ceremony. Mr. Edwards Parsons played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. T. Harry Johns in her solo, "I Love Thee" (Grieg), sung during the signing of the register.

Mr. Scurrah gave his daughter in marriage. A petite brunette, she might have stepped out of an album so picturesque was her beautiful wedding gown of starched white chiffon, patterned all over in a delicate tracery of white. The tiny-waisted shirred bodice featured a sweetheart neckline outlined with bebe gardenias, and stiffened short puff sleeves, and was buttoned from below the waistline to the neck at the back. The very full skirt opened on either side of the front over a jupe of taffeta edged with three full frills, and was caught at the head of each opening with a tiny cluster of bebe gardenias. The skirt flared at the back into a very long full, circular train. Quaint wristlets of the starched chiffon were worn in place of gloves, and her hip-length veil of filmy illusion fell from a Russian coronet of pearls, caught at the back with orange blossom buds. She carried a bouquet of baby gardenias.

FIVE ATTENDANTS

Five attendants followed the bride to the altar. Miss Joyce Scurrah was her sister's maid of honor, in a charming frock of Jubilee blue double net, with a fitted coatee of lace to tone, buttoned from the sweetheart neckline to the tight waist and brief puff sleeves. Her piquant hat was of triple thicknesses of blue veiling, caught at the back with bows of orchid, pink and blue veiling, the long ends tied below the hair, and she carried a bouquet of orchid and blue sweet peas, delphiniums and pink roses.

The four bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Joan Scurrah, sister of the bride, in water lily green; Miss Gwen Burton in primrose yellow; Miss Betty Gould in orchid, and Miss Mary Bland in Briarcliffe pink. The frocks were all made alike of double silk net, with very full skirts and tiny waists, the bodices shirred down the front and edged at the square neckline with pleated tulle and adorned with narrow velvet ribbon bows. Their tiny pancake hats of tulle to match their gowns were crowned with velvet flowers to tone and they wore net mittens in similar shades and carried colonial bouquets of pink and mauve sweet-peas and roses.

Mr. Bert Buller was groomsman, and Messrs. Arthur Roberts, George Langdon, Richard Surphlis, Richard Laird and Jack Einlayson were ushers.

MANY AT RECEPTION

After the service, a largely-attended reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the young couple stood in the drawing room before a window embrasure banked with palms, syringa, peonies and delphiniums to receive felicitations. Mrs. Scurrah received the guests in a handsome gown of Georgia rose French marquisette, with boned bodice and very full skirt, and a brief coatee. Her wide-brimmed hat of veiling to tone was trimmed at the front of the crown with a posy of silk hyacinths in rose and blue tones, and she wore a corsage bouquet of gerbera and blue delphinium at the waistline.

Mrs. Andrew Halkett of Vancouver, aunt of the bridegroom, assisted Mr. and Mrs. Scurrah, and Mr. Halkett Sr., in receiving. She wore a gown of Queen's blue and a hat of coral pink, with a corsage bouquet of white gardenias.

The buffet luncheon was served from a table centred with the three-tiered wedding cake, which was surrounded with a garland of white spirea, dotted with pink rosebuds, tiny white pottery vases of pink rosebuds and gypsophila, and white tapers in silver candelabra, Mrs. Frank M. MacPherson being in charge of the decorations.

MOTORING SOUTH

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Halkett left for a motor trip south, the bride traveling in a smart dressmaker suit of Tahiti wool, with circular gored skirt and fitted coat, piped at the square neckline and cuffs with white, a chubby coat of red fox opossum, and a chic little hat of grosgrain and felt in French cognac shade, with bow and long ends of the grosgrain. Her accessories were in the cognac shade.

On their return they will make their home at 2690 Cadboro Bay Road.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Andrew Halkett, Miss Edna Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barclay of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. McIntyre and Mr. L. E. Skinner of Toronto; Miss Mamie Seater and Mr. C. W. O'Neill of Duncan.

Among the many handsome gifts was a silver tea-service from the staff of P. B. Scurrah, Ltd., and a case of flat silver from the bridegroom's associates in the King's Printer department at the Parliament Buildings.

Culminating a romance that started over the radio was the marriage this afternoon of Miss Mildred Grace Tate, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Tate, Ker Avenue, and Mr. Richard Craig-Young of Yakima, Wash., younger son of Mrs. J. Young of Seattle and the late Mr. Young. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Rowell at his home, Cedar Hill Cross Road. The bride, who was given in marriage by her elder brother, Mr. R. J. Tate, owing to the illness of her father, wore a smart traveling suit of fine wool in pastel pink shade, a pink suede hat to match and a corsage of pink rosebuds and carnations.

She was attended by Miss Tora Parker, wearing a grey suit with mauve accessories. The bridegroom was supported by Mr. Henry B. Tate, younger brother of the bride.

At the conclusion of the service, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Ker Avenue, where the many guests were received by Mrs. Tate, wearing a wine-colored gown with blue accessories and a corsage of white flowers.

The bride and bridegroom left for the United States on a honeymoon of unknown destination and will later make their home on Terrace Heights, Yakima.

RIGBY—CUNNINGHAM

A wedding of much interest took place in St. John's Church at 2.30 p.m. on Friday, June 30, between Diana Madeline, second daughter of Major and Mrs. W. G. Cunningham, Salsbury Way, and Mr. Guy Grosvenor Edward Rigby, second son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Rigby, Richardson Street. Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick, assisted by the Very Rev. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very charming in a beautiful gown of embroidered tulle over silk taffeta with a train, worn with a tulle veil with a coronet of orange blossoms and lily of the valley, and carried a beautiful bouquet consisting of roses and gardenias.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Sylvia and Jean Cunningham, sisters of the bride, and a cousin, Miss Frances Cunningham. Misses Sylvia and Frances Cunningham wore frocks of French blue turquoise taffeta, and wide-brimmed white hats with turquoise ribbons and peach-colored roses, and carried sheaves of gladioli. Miss Jean Cunningham wore a delightful Kate Greenaway frock of white taffeta, with turquoise sash and a wreath of flowers on her head, and carried a posy of flowers in pastel shades. Mr. Jack Holms, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, was best man; the ushers, Mr. Jack Cunningham, the bride's cousin, and Mr. Frank Waring.

Illegal to Oust Married Women From Jobs

Supreme Court of Massachusetts Gives Ruling

BOSTON (AP)—In an advisory opinion to the state Legislature, the Massachusetts Supreme Court held today as unconstitutional the prohibition or restriction of employment of married women in public service.

The ruling gave foes of working wives a major setback in a controversy which has raced throughout the state for the past two years. Opponents of working wives already have indicated they would seek a constitutional amendment in the event of an adverse ruling.

The court's majority opinion held "married woman are not, by reason either of being women or being married, excluded from citizenship, though before comparatively recent constitutional changes women did not have the political right of voting and of holding public office.

"Women, married or unmarried, are members of the state. Subject only to constitutional limitations they share with other citizens the duties and privileges of citizenship. And like other citizens they are entitled to the benefits of the constitutional guarantees against arbitrary discrimination."

LEADERS EXPECT OCTOBER ELECTION

OTTAWA (CP)—Developments in the international situation and their possible consequences to Canada are being closely watched by the Dominion government, but have caused no visible interruption to the midsummer quiet which has gripped the capital.

Prime Minister King's pronouncement last Wednesday on the matters which might influence a general election and his direct statement that the question of an election date remained to be decided, was the highlight of the week.

Mr. King is living quietly at his summer home and coming to Ottawa only for the weekly cabinet meeting or for engagements.

Hon. R. J. Manion, Conservative leader, has been busy for a week with addresses in Ontario. July 9 he will start a series of Quebec addresses.

The New Democracy movement sponsored by Hon. W. D. Herridge was given support when the federal Social Credit Party, meeting in caucus in Edmonton Friday, endorsed the utterances of Mr. Herridge and urged its members to follow his leadership.

Mr. Herridge is proposing defeat of Liberal and Conservative candidates and the election of a "free parliament" removed from any influence of financial powers.

This week he will attend the convention of the New Democracy movement in Regina, after which he will deliver a series of addresses in western Canada.

The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation Party, under the leadership of J. S. Woodsworth, member of Parliament for Winnipeg North Centre, is quietly proceeding with organization in preparation for a general election which all parties seem convinced will come late in October.

In some quarters it is believed the signal for opening an election campaign will be given when Mr. King addresses a banquet to be given in his honor by his Dominion supporters in Toronto next August 8, marking his 20 years as leader of the party.

Cooke Scores Smashing Win Over Bunny Austin

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

THE SECOND YEAR JINX, which camps on the trail of so many young major league ball players like a faithful hound, is no match for six-foot four-inch 200-pound Frank McCormick, No. 1 spark of the Cincinnati Reds.

Of the brighter new stars . . . including Joe Gordon of the New York Yankees, Bobby Doerr of the Boston Red Sox, Jeff Heath and Kenny Keltner of the Cleveland Indians, and George Washington Case, the Washington flier, Buck McCormick perhaps has the best chance to take his place among the super-stars.

Last year McCormick was the only athlete in the National league with more than 200 hits. His 209 safe blows made him the third first-year man in the modern history of the older circuit to pass the double-century.

McCormick, who has just turned 26, was the league-leading hit buncher, too. Seven times during the campaign a player had five hits in one contest. The Bronx Bomber was the only one to perform the feat twice. There were 113 instances of four hits in one game by one swinger. The big boy from the sidewalks of New York had six four-hit engagements, more than any rival.

At the start of the wars of 1938, McCormick was supposed to have one real batting weakness. They said he couldn't wallop low pitches. He slaughtered pitches above the belt. And his brilliant performance last term is something in the way of evidence that he quickly corrected his weakness under the guidance of William Boyd McKechnie . . . murdered high stuff, too.

McCormick roars this trip, too. He is in the thick of the fight for the batting and runs-batted-in championship of both big leagues. Despite the spaciousness of Crosley Field, where he plays half his games, he is among the home run leaders.

Bill McKechnie and his first lieutenant, Jimmy Wilson, call McCormick the finest defensive first baseman in the senior circuit, despite the fact that he lacks the physical advantages of a left-hander at the position. His tremendous size and reach make him a perfect target for infielders. McCormick has vastly more than natural ability. He has the burning ambition that spurred him to stick to the game under discouraging circumstances. He is big enough and has the necessary fire to be boss on the field.

When Bill Terry took over the late John McGraw's mantle as manager of the Giants in 1932, the 19-year-old McCormick, who had been trying out, received a letter from the new director.

"If you have a good job, keep it and forget baseball," advised Terry.

But McCormick didn't fancy a career as shipping clerk in a New York antique shop. He wanted to play baseball, felt that he could make good, and had the courage to stick to that trade.

A New York friend of McCormick kept writing letters to the Cincinnati club . . . telling of the possibilities of the sizeable young man. The letter writer's persistency finally obtained McCormick a whirl in a tryout camp conducted at Beckley, W. Va., in the spring of 1934.

Larry MacPhail, now in charge of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was the man who gave McCormick his opportunity. He would like to hear from more letter-writers like the one who recommended Buck McCormick.

So would the Cincinnati Reds . . . especially if the penmanship has to do with a left-fielder.

Lawn Bowling

The strawberry and cream social game staged by the Victoria West Lawn Bowling Club was well patronized by the members of all the local clubs, a total of 78 players turning out for the game, which was won by a rink skipped by E. Myers of Burnside, with a plus score of 16. Second prize went to a rink skipped by T. Currie of Lake Hill, with a plus score of 14. Strawberries and cream were served by the women of the club under the supervision of Mrs. N. R. Hill.

U.S. Star, Bruen and Allis Scores Subpar 69s In British Open Golf

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (CP) A trio of golfing greats—Jim Bruen, Percy Allis and Lawson Little—shot four-under-par 69's over tough St. Andrews today to set the pace in the first round of qualifying play for the British open championship.

Bruen, young Irish amateur sensation, was the first man home and his card was the more surprising for the fact he played over the old course through a fine rain and fog.

Conditions improved, but many big names in golf posted scores high in the 70's.

But Allis, former British Ryder Cupper, and Little, husky American who has worn the Canadian open as well as the British and United States amateur crowns, found conditions to their liking. Little toured the home route in 32 strokes.

Reggie Whitcombe, the defending champion, had a steady 72 while the outstanding favorite, Henry Cotton, was a shade off his putting and finished with 73, one over par for the new course.

Old Archie Compston shot 74 while Brig.-General A. C. Critchley, London sports promoter, soared to 78.

PLAY TWO COURSES

Half the field of 240 golfers played the old course today and the other half the new course.

Bruen was four under par and toured the difficult "loop" of six holes in 19 shots. He was out in 36 and back in 33 with six pars and three birdies on the way in.

Percy Allis, who was a member of the 1937 British Ryder Cup team, joined the Irishman later with the same score over the new course.

"The course is dead easy," Allis commented after posting his round. "I did not have to putt over 14 feet the whole way around.

Johnny Bulla, the American, turned in a one-under-par 72 over the old course. S. S. Scott had a 73.

An early mist and rain disappeared around noon but despite the more favorable conditions there was no noticeable improvement in the scoring.

LOCKE HAS 74

Bob Sweeney, former British amateur champion, shot a 74. Bobby Locke of South Africa, joint second choice with Bruen, had the same score, over the new course, and Alex Kyle, the current British amateur champion, a 77.

Diminutive Dail Rees, golfing pride of Wales, was a stroke lower, while Len Crawley, veteran Walker Cupper, and Hector Thomson, 1936 amateur titleholder, had 78's.

Three Victoria Teams Defeated

Visiting cricket teams captured honors in matches played here Saturday. At Macdonald Park Vancouver defeated Victoria by 12 runs on the first innings, 82 to 70. The clubs failed to complete the second innings. At Beacon Hill Seattle trimmed the Five C's 103 to 69 in a regular league fixture.

The Vancouver-Victoria match saw Reg Wenman and H. Griffin score 26 and 15, respectively, to be the only locals able to solve the visiting bowlers. A. J. Salt with 21 and E. S. Bullen with 17, not out, were the only visitors to put on double figures.

For Vancouver Darcus took six wickets for 29 runs while Godfrey Wenman topped the local trundlers with five for 17.

In the Seattle-Five C's match Matt Hughes led the invaders with a fine 44, with Eric Quainton contributing 22 for the best local stand.

LOSE AT VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER — Arriving in Vancouver with only seven men, the Victoria Wednesday Cricket League team was forced to call on four Vancouver players to complete an eleven for their annual intercity match with the Vancouver Midweek League side at Brockton Point Saturday, and were decisively beaten in the first of the two-game series for the Arthur Smith Trophy. The second game will be played in Victoria on September 4.

Victoria scored 91 and 127 as compared to Vancouver's 191 for five wickets and 29 for no wickets.

Sculling Races Prove Thrilling

Fred Parker in Feature Single Sculls Victory at J.B.A.A. Regatta

Knifing through the waters of the Gorge in their needle-like craft in the single sculls championship event of the annual J.B.A.A. through-Victoria regatta —a holiday feature Saturday afternoon attended by some 400 spectators—Fred Parker, brawny club oarsman, highlighted the afternoon with a thrilling win over Fred Crouch.

With only about 200 yards to the finishing line at the Gorge Bridge—the race started at the Causeway, three miles from the spot — Crouch increased his stroke to pull away from Parker. He seemingly had the race in the well-known bag, but Parker said "no." About 100 yards from the finish he laid into the oars in a power-driving sprint that shot him over the line feet ahead of Crouch.

There were two other sculling events on the program—doubles and fours — and a number of swimming races staged by the Pacific Swimming Club. The program was presented under ideal weather conditions.

A crew of Pete Morgan, stroke, Bob Mair, Max Winkler, Lloyd Patterson and Bill Waller, cox, pulled a nice race to win the fours championship. With the crew of Jack Munsie, stroke, Dave Mowatt, Mike Harman, Alex Roberts and Dick Cox, coxswain, a length ahead at the Johnson Street Bridge, they dug in and had caught up by the C.N.R. Terminals, increasing their stroke to draw slightly ahead. They finished about a length ahead of Munsie's crew.

Max Winkler and Hugh Francis made the grade in the doubles event over Jack McDonald and Jim Temple. They finished strong with a two and a half boatlengths to the good.

Dan Moses, J.B.A.A. coach, was in charge of the sculling program.

The swimming races during the intervals were conducted under Frank Hyslop, coach of the Pacific Club.

Take First Place in B.C. Track and Field Championships at Trail

TRAIL, B.C. (CP) — Victoria athletes took top honors in the British Columbia amateur track and field championships here Dominion Day, winning the 880-yard run, the mile, the 440-mile relay, broad jump and shot put to score an aggregate of 42 points.

High aggregate went to Frank Rutledge of Vancouver with a total of 15, with Norman Bowsher of Trail runner-up with 14. Pat Haley of Trail was third with 13 points.

Although Vancouver, Victoria, Trail, Nelson, Kimberley and Creston athletes took part, officials expressed disappointment at the small entry list of 23. They reported the meet a "complete success," however.

Frank Rutledge made the best showing for Vancouver, winning two events and placing second in another. Pat Haley and Norman Bowsher led the Trail group with two victories and one second place each. Victoria's Joe Addison finished first in one event and second in two others, while another Victorian, Bill Dale, had a first and a second.

Dale, Washington State College track star, nosed out Addison in the 880-yard run, but Addison avenged the defeat by nosing out his rival in the 440-yard test.

DALE WINS HALF MILE

Dale stepped out in the half-mile home stretch to cover the distance in 3:03.9 with Frank Swerya of Nelson pulling up third. Addison made the quarter-mile in :51.5, with Swerya again third.

Ball Players Tough

Three Major League Battle Are Highlighted By Fights; Several Injuries

All that most major league players want is a fighting chance and they'll keep baseball safe from classification as a parlor sport. That was demonstrated in a rough-house 15-game program for 195,338 patrons at eight parks.

Three contests were punctuated by fighting, firecrackers and pop bottles and in another three players were injured. But withal there was considerable good baseball and a realignment of the standings in both leagues.

In the National the league-leading Cincinnati Reds divided a double bill with Chicago Cubs, winning the first, 11 to 3, and losing the second, 9 to 8, to enable the Cubs to climb into third place ahead of St. Louis Cardinals, who were beaten twice by Pittsburgh, 8 to 5 and 6 to 3.

In the American old Moses Grove of Boston Red Sox handcuffed New York Yankees in one half of a doubleheader, 7 to 3, but the champions won the nightcap, 9 to 3. Washington Senators took care of shuffling the standings by whipping the Philadelphia Athletics, 4 to 3, and 13 to 2.

Detroit had only one game, but put on the best show even aside from the fact Tommy Bridges pitched a four-hitter against Chicago White Sox to win his 11th of the season, 5 to 1.

CHASED FROM PARK

Manager Casey Stengel of Boston Bees and Merrill May of the Phillies punched each other and were expelled at Philadelphia after May had collided with second basemen Ed Martin of the Bees in trying to prevent a double play. Boston won both games, 9 to 7 and 4 to 3.

Firecrackers popped and pop bottles were fired from the ramparts of the Polo Grounds as Manager Leo Durocher of Brooklyn Dodgers and big Zeke Bonura, the usually amiable first baseman of the Giants, fought for the mixed-weight championship of New York.

The Dodgers won the first

Alerts Victors Over Nanaimo

Locals Beat Visiting Boxla Seniors 24 to 12; Liberals Beaten

Sparked by a quartette of smart stick-handlers, Buzz Brown, W. Williams, Norm Coates and Bischlager, who contributed 16 goals between them, Victoria's Alert Service squad turned back the invading Nanaimo Sports Centre senior septette, 24 to 12, in the feature game on a two-game Dominion Day exhibition box lacrosse program at the Willows, Saturday night.

The curtain raiser of this inter-city card saw the Edison Madza juvenile A team from Nanaimo hand the leading Saanich Young Liberals of the local juvenile loop a 14 to 11 beating.

In a morning midget game at Athletic Park, Short's Shorties defeated Pirates 11 to 4.

After setting up a slim 4 to 3 lead in the first quarter, Harry Sargison's Alerts really won the game in the following session when they rifled 11 goals past the centre's goalie to take a commanding lead. They were never in danger of defeat thereafter.

The game was fast throughout and both teams resorted to hard checking, resulting in a total of 28 penalties.

Although the Alerts looked the superior team they found the Coal City seniors plenty game and still fighting hard at the closing whistle.

Nanaimo Edisons gave Young Liberals their first taste of defeat of the season. It was a bruising battle and the penalty list was heavy. In the early part of the game the Liberals set up a fine 7 to 1 lead, but Nanaimo soon hit their stride and by the end of the third quarter they were just one goal behind the Saanich lads, 9 to 8. In the final session, however, the Nanaimo boys went on a fine scoring spree to rap in six goals to two returns to emerge the victor.

Alderman W. H. Davies presented the winning teams in the night games with Dominion Day Challenge Trophies, which will be competed for annually.

TOMORROW'S GAMES

An interesting fight is expected tomorrow night at the Willows sports auditorium when Alert Service and Conservatives collide in a senior league battle at 8.45. The opening game on the card will bring together Times Terriers and Oaklands at 7.30.

EAGLES, GASMEN BATTLE TONIGHT

Eagles and Pitzer and Nex, bracketed in second place, will be shooting for sole occupation of that berth in the Rithet Cup baseball race tonight when they meet at Athletic Park at 6.15. Eagles will send Harry Harding to the hillock to send over the offerings and Lloyd Jones will probably be the choice from the gasmen's camp.

These two teams were victorious in their last starts.

Oak Bay vs. Cedar Hill, Oak Bay Park; umpire, Scroggs.

Victoria scored two runs in the ninth inning to pull the morning game out of the fire. Behind 5 to 4 the local squad came through in the pinch. After Steve Dunc had singled, pinch-hitter Bill Bridgewood drew a walk. Jack Blake, second pinch-hitter of the inning smashed a single to score Dunc with the tieing run. Bill Yardley popped up for the second out but Barney Barnswell came through with a hit to score Bridgewood with the deciding run.

Pat Haley, brother of Joe, set the pace in the 100-yard dash to win that event easily from Rutledge of Vancouver and Arthur Brookman of Victoria, who came third. Pat made it in :9.8.

Forcing the pace, Pat won an easy victory in the 220. He trailed at 25 yards and then shot out to finish the dash in :22.5. Addison was second and Rutledge third.

Ward DeBeck, University of British Columbia student, who hails from Victoria, beat William Swinton of Vancouver and Phil Edgecumbe of Kimberley in the mile with a time of 4:49.9, while another Victorian, Arthur Brookman, took first place in the broad jump with a leap of 21 feet 4¼ inches.

Pat Haley was second and Frank Armstrong, hoder of the broad jump record for Canadian high schools, was third.

THOMPSON VICTOR

William Thompson added further points to the Victoria total when he heaved the shotput 39 feet 18 3-8 inches to win that event from Sidney Argyle of Creston, Norman Bowsher of Trail and Robert McLellan, who placed in that order.

In the discus throw Bowsher threw the plate 119 feet 11½ inches to win. Thompson of Victoria was second and McLellan of Vancouver third. The hammer throw was captured by Bowsher with a distance of 133 feet 3¼ inches, Thompson of Victoria and McLellan of Vancouver placing second and third respectively. Oria and McLellan of Vancouver placed second and third, respectively.

Pole vault honors went to Frank Rutledge of Vancouver Technical High School. Rutledge showed rare form and cleared the bar at 11 feet 2⅞ inches.

The Vancouver boy came back in the hop, step and jump event to win easily over Brookman, Victoria, and Norman Armstrong of Vancouver with a distance of 40 feet 3⅛ inches.

Robert McLellan of Vancouver was third in the javelin throw, which was won by Frank Foxlee of Trail with a toss of 136 feet 8⅝ inches.

Joe Haley, holder of the high jump titles of the Maritime provinces and Quebec, won his specialty with a leap of 6 feet 1 inch, defeating Norman Armstrong, Canadian High School record holder of Vancouver.

Although his mark was the same, Armstrong required more tries than Haley. The two were unable to clear 6 feet 2 inches.

Wooderson Silent

PLYMOUTH, Eng. (AP) — Sydney Wooderson, holder of the official world record for the mile, returned from the United States today and said he preferred not to discuss the Princeton Mile, in which he finished last in a field of five.

"It's better forgotten," he said. "Of course I was disappointed," added the little London solicitor, "but I don't want to stir up any bad feeling."

School Closing Ceremonies Held

St. Michael's 29th Annual Session Held in Garden; Prizes Presented

On Friday St. Michael's school held its 29th annual summer closing in the beautiful gardens at 933 Foul Bay Road, kindly lent to the school by C. L. Aylard. With the perfect weather prevailing a large gathering of friends, parents and Old Boys was on hand to witness the various events.

The program started with a series of Wolf Cub games, including an intersix battle balancing shoes on their heads, a leapfrog relay race, and and exhibition of blind-fold boxing. The audience enjoyed many hearty laughs at the knockout blows that were aimed at nonexistent opponents and the equally humorous unexpected meetings of the combatants.

Following the Wolf Cubs the Scout troop gave a demonstration of making camp in a limited time of four minutes. Three tents were set up, one fir bough shelter and a kitchen, in the set time, and rope bed. The whole scene was remarkably smart and effective.

The whole school gave its customary smart drill display. This began with a march that involved intersection by half companies in file and in line, formation of a revolving star, and culminating in a tight circle so that each boy sat on the knees of the next. Then the parade formed up in half companies, and, following a general salute, did the manual exercises. This portion of the program was handled by C. E. Ley.

K. W. Symons then took charge and put the company through four physical exercises, involving the modern practices of rhythm and variation. Finally Ned Symons demonstrated a few games and "rags." Pole-jumping relays, between-the-legs relays and bottle balancing being run off in quick succession.

A picked gym squad performed a few exercises on the box horse, various vaults and back springs being rounded off by a demonstration of long vaults over the high horse and three boys sandwiched on top. This turn was concluded by attempts of the whole school to emulate their more able mates.

An exceedingly graceful symmetrical pyramid concluded this part of the program.

At the presentation of prizes K. C. Symons gave a brief resume of the year, and thanked all who had supported the school. He referred to the high standard maintained by the boys, and particularly mentioned the honors won by the Old Boys. He closed his remarks with a few optimistic remarks about the promising future.

R. W. Mayhew, M.P., who presented the prizes, gave a stirring speech, insisting that it was wrong of people to say that there were no opportunities for young men in Canada; that on the other hand Canada offered more for men, properly trained for some definite work, than most countries. He also expressed his pleasure in presenting the prizes at a school that he had known for 19 years.

The afternoon concluded with the serving of tea on the veranda of the house.

Prizes were presented as follows:

Chemainus Celebrates

Two-day Program Held On 50th Anniversary of Town's Lumber Company

By Staff Representative

CHEMAINUS — By far the most active part of the island over the holiday week-end was Chemainus.

On Friday and Saturday the little lumber town was a hive of holiday-making and celebrating on the occasion of the Golden Jubilee of the Victoria Lumber and Manufacturing Company Limited, which makes up the major section of the town, coupled with Dominion Day.

From early morning to late at night, on both days, the citizens of Chemainus, joined by hundreds of visitors from other island points, took part in a continuous program of festivities.

The main celebrations started Friday morning with a colorful parade through the streets of the town. Some 20 large and fancy floats featured the procession. In addition there were 28 other sections in the parade covering other decorated vehicles, group and individual entries.

TIMBER QUEEN FLOAT

The parade was highlighted with one large float, suitably decorated, carrying pretty Margaret Craig, selected Timber Queen for the festivities. Queen Margaret sat on a throne hewn from a single huge log. She was attended by the Misses Doreen Shillito, Eunice Syme, Rose Crucil, and Mary Radcliff. Two little boys, Bobby Jones and John Lapsley, were pages.

The industrial and commemorative float section of the parade was won by the sawmill department of the company with a miniature sawmill erected on a large truck. Second prize went to the machine department, the float of which represented a comparison between the old and the new in that line.

The organized and general float section first prize was awarded the Japanese citizens of the community for a colorful flower float. The Proteau family won second prize with a large float. Special prizes for floats were awarded the Pythian Sisters and the loading shed crew of the mill.

H. E. Heslip won the best decorated car section of the parade and Harry Johnson was second. The best comic car award went to G. Phillips.

Following the parade, Queen Margaret was officially crowned at a ceremony at the school grounds. T. J. Humbird, president of the Victoria Lumber and Manufacturing Company, conducted the ceremonies and addressed the gathering, in addition to J. A. Humbird, vice-president and manager of the firm; W. Milnor Roberts, a director, and Steven C. Phipps, secretary of the company.

PRESENTATIONS TO EMPLOYEES

During the ceremonies, J. A. Humbird presented A. C. Smith with an engraved gold watch as the oldest employee of the company. Mr. Smith had been a member of the mill staff for 47 years. In addition to the presentation, service medals were given various members of the firm. Diamond-studded lapel buttons were presented to Gunner Jacobson who had been working for the company for 43 years, and Charles Cathey, a member of the firm's staff for 41 years.

At the close of the ceremonies, 1,080 ice cream cups were given away to the children and everyone received souvenirs in the form of blue Glengarry caps.

The whole of the afternoon was taken up with an interesting program of aquatic sports at Chemainus Beach. Twenty different events kept the crowds on the beach entertained. Cash prizes were given the winners.

In the evening an open-air dance was staged at Humbird's tennis courts with Plimlott's eight-piece Vancouver orchestra providing all the latest dance hits and old-time tunes.

SATURDAY'S CELEBRATIONS

The main part of the celebrations on Saturday started at noon with a grand assembly at the ball ground. The Boy Scouts of the district conducted the breaking of the flag ceremony, and C. W. Laubach spoke. Flags were distributed among the children.

This was followed by field sports, with 62 different events. In the evening following the sports, a softball game was staged between the Green Lanterns and the Longshoremen.

COMMITTEE WORKED HARD

The two days' celebrations, which ran smoothly, with everyone in the district taking part, were the result of much work on the part of committees which had prepared for the 50th anniversary weeks in advance. The general committee was composed of W. M. Allester, chairman; H. W. Evans, H. E. Heslip, and A. E. P. Stubbs. Mr. Stubbs, Miss A. Lowe and C. W. Laubach were in charge of finance.

The parade committee members were: W. Dabinet, chairman; Miss I. Vye, Mrs. D. Inkster, J. Coles, W. Rice, B. Beasley, W. Morris, D. Inkster, W. Wyllie and A. Jones.

Friday's water sports were in charge of S. Tickle, chairman; T. Eberts, H. Bennett, J. Crabbe, H. Bailey, T. English and Claire Johns.

The dance committee was made up of W. Wylie, W. Dabinette, F. Work, A. Beasley, F. Clarke, W. Rice, Mrs. P. S. Quelch and Mrs. A. Bellamy.

The Arbutus Chapter, I.O.D.E. committee under the chairmanship of the regent, Mrs. Joe Sandland, looked after the costuming of the Timber Queen and her attendants and the decorations of the float. The members of the committee in addition to Mrs. Sandland were Mesdames Pat Donohoe, Bob McBride, Jack McKinnon and Phil Lomas.

Constable Clifford Prescott Met Death in Drop From Precipice

Constable Clifford Prescott, Victoria, of the British Columbia Provincial Police whose body was found in Butedale Lake Friday, died from a broken neck sustained when he fell from a steep precipice while walking around the lakeshore, according to advices received by police headquarters here.

The body was recovered by searchers who had concentrated their efforts around the precipice after finding indications of Prescott's having reached there safely.

Constable Prescott had been missing for a week and a half after he started out on the trail between Surf Inlet and Butedale.

Constable Prescott was a native son of Victoria and was 38 years of age. Before joining the Provincial Police he had been engaged in mechanical work in different garages in the city. He was taken on the force at the end of last May. He is survived by his widow and four children residing on Tulip Avenue, Saanich.

The body will be brought to Victoria for burial. Claude Prescott, brother of the dead constable, who has been at Butedale and who attended an inquest this morning at Ocean Falls, will accompany the remains to this city.

Weary Soldiers Back From Camp

Militiamen Return From Biggest Post-war Exercises at Vernon

Tired, footsore and thoroughly sunburned, nearly 400 of Vancouver Island's part-time soldiers arrived back home yesterday afternoon from the biggest and hardest-working militia camp held in British Columbia since the Great War.

After six days of tramping over the parched countryside around Vernon in large-scale tactical exercises, involving all the nonpermanent infantry units in the province as well as cavalry and auxiliary services, men from the Canadian Scottish Regiment and the 13th Field Ambulance, Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, landed in the rain in time to get an evening's rest before going back to their regular workaday jobs this morning.

The destroyer Restigouche brought the Victoria contingent —the 1st Battalion of the Scottish and the medical unit—to Esquimalt a few minutes after 3. They rode in special street cars to the Bay Street Armories, where they were finally dismissed.

The men had left Vernon in a special C.N.R. troop train at 7 Saturday night. They reached Vancouver at 9.35 yesterday morning. Buses took them from the railroad depot to the Hotel Vancouver for breakfast. Then they marched to the dock and boarded the destroyer at 11.45.

The heat was unbroken throughout the period of the camp except for a thunderstorm on Thursday evening, which prevented the Canadian Scottish from going out to bivouac for the night in preparation for the final sham battle on Friday.

All the tactical exercises up to that time had involved an imaginary enemy. But on Friday the two battalions of the Canadian Scottish—the 1st from Victoria and the 2nd (machine gunners) from up-island — joined the Rocky Mountain Rangers to become the "Rocky Scouts Brigade" and to take on the rest of the 14th Infantry Division in a battle which raged all over the Vernon hills.

The Vancouver Island troops were inducted into the new system of marching in threes instead of the traditional fours soon after their arrival in camp last Monday, and used the new drill right through the week except for the final ceremonial parade on Saturday. Officers reported it a great success, especially for tactical use in the field, where it cuts down the time taken by platoons to split into sections.

Collections Record Gains

During the first half of this year the city has collected in advance over 44 per cent of its current levy, according to figures released today by the city assessor-collector's department. Actual payment of 1939 obligations does not fall due until the beginning of October.

Collections in the current division stand $13,991.15 above those for the same period last year, the total to date being $685,650.15 Last year at June 30 the figure was $671,659.

In the arrears division, where the amount outstanding for 1939 is far below that of 1938, collections showed to advantage on a percentage basis, although the actual figures were behind.

In that section $92,509.31 had been paid to the city at the end of last month against $99,682.41 at the end of June 1938.

Despite the decrease in the arrears the city showed a net gain on the combined collections of $6,818.04.

Striking Unemployed Return to Vancouver

Single unemployed men who went on strike at the Elk River Falls forestry camp, Vancouver Island, some days ago, have returned to Vancouver, where they were hired, relief department officials here were advised this morning.

They accepted their pay cheques, which they refused for some days.

The 85 men went from Elk River to Nanaimo and left from there by steamer yesterday and this morning for Vancouver.

It was thought at Nanaimo last night the men planned to come to Victoria to see the government.

The camp has been closed by the government. No food was ordered after the men sat down in sympathy with cookhouse workers, who were discharged after they quit their work to listen to Relief Project Workers' Union spokesman.

No Money For City Power Plan

No Emergency Exists, Says Hon. Wells Gray In Answering City

Victoria's hopes of securing a $450,000 hydro loan from the federal government under terms of the Municipal Improvements Assistance Act, whereby money was available under certain circumstances at a rate of 2 per cent per annum, appared doomed for disappointment today.

An application for such a loan, prior to going to Ottawa, requires endorsement of the provincial government. In a letter received late last week from Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Municipal Affairs, such endorsement was declined.

The city sought the loan to implement recommendations of the Beck report. Projects considered, should the sum be made available at 2 per cent, included construction of a hydro-plant at Goldstream, including acquisition of present plant at not to exceed $19,200; design of a 10,000 K.W. steam plant in the city; building of a transmission line system for Goldstream to the proposed steam plants site with necessary transformers, protective devices and other squipment; construction of necessary feeders to serve existing municipally-owned buildings; purchase and erection of line transformers, meters and supplies necessary to serve all municipal loads and customers within 1,000 feet along routes of feeders, and the supply of working cash sufficient to operate the system successfully.

Mr. Gray's in replying to the city's application said:

"After full consideration of your application, I am of the opinion that I cannot recommend it for approval. When the City Debt Refunding Act, 1937, was passed, section 30 was inserted in the act to enable your city to borrow money only in the event that a great emergency should arise. Your application, therefore, cannot qualify at this time, as no emergency exists. Furthermore, I am of the opinion that any application for the creation of a new debt should be passed upon by the board of trustees and, in this case, particularly, after consultation with your present bondholders, as the proposed loan would create a debt with preferential features over any existing obligations."

Victoria Given Gyro Convention

Bill Hudson, a delegate of the local Gyro Club to the district convention in Banff last week, announced today that Victoria would be the scene of the 1941 International Gyro Convention.

Mr. Hudson returned to town yesterday. Bert Challoner, a second delegate from Victoria, will return home next Monday.

A permit for $1,500 alterations and repairs to the warehouse at 1244 Wharf Street was issued by the city building inspector's department today.

Beethoven Love Story Filmed

Hit of French Cinema World Now Offered at Oak Bay

Hit of the foreign language cinema week is the French "The Life and Loves of Beethoven," presented at the Oak Bay Theatre. The French seem to have a knack for making unusual pictures that strike to the heart, weave a spell of dramatic ardor as they lay bare some great human tragedy.

Answering the question who was the "Immortal Beloved," the unknown lady to whom Beethoven wrote, in the light of events one of history's most pathetic love letters, the director, by framing it in a musical score that sweeps the whole work along irresistibly, has created a piece of rare emotional fire.

The bounty of Beethoven's magnificence leaps into life with a aragic gesture—tragic but passionately human.

Bing Crosby in Atlas Feature

Crooner Supported By Joan Blondell And J. F. MacDonald

J. Farrell MacDonald could not make up his mind whether he wanted to be an engineer, a newspaper man or a clergyman—so he compromised and became an actor.

That was more than 30 years ago. Since then he has been a topnotch director, a producer and has returned to his first love—acting. His latest role is in support of Bing Crosby and Joan Blondell in Universal's "East Side of Heaven, at the Atlas Theatre today.

Runyon Comedy At Columbia

'Straight, Place and Show' Introduces Ritz Brothers

Tiny Roebuck, wrestling behemoth, has finally crashed the movies.

Signed by 20th Century-Fox for a wrestling part in the Ritz Brothers' new comedy, Damon Runyon's "Straight, Place and Show," Tiny was pitted against Harry Ritz for a hilarious grunt-and-groan sequence in the picture.

"Straight, Place and Show," based on a play by Damon Runyon and Irving Caesar, is now at the Columbia Theatre, with Richard Arlen, Ethel Merman, Phyllis Brooks, George Barbier, and Willie Best featured.

DOMINION THEATRE

Shirley Temple in a story ablaze with adventure, action and conflict of the old northwest, is at the Dominion Theatre. The film is 20th Century-Fox's "Susannah of the Mounties." It reveals Shirley in a portrayal different by far from anything she has ever done on the screen.

Tony Galento-Joe Louis Bout Screened in City

CAPITOL THEATRE

Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and Basil Rathbone virtually symbolize an empire in Universal's "The Sun Never Sets," which is now at the Capitol Theatre.

This is a picture dealing with the British Colonial Civil Service, which protects 500,000,000 people over an area of 13,000,000 square miles. But the whole story is told through two brothers, portrayed by Fairbanks and Rathbone.

And they reveal a powerful drama. Both are ranked among Hollywood's foremost actors. Seldom have they turned in performances equal to those in this film.

Gracie Allen in Featured Role

With a plot based on a story by the late S. S. Van Dine, Gracie Allen in one of the featured roles, and a large cast of other featured players including Warren Williams as Philo Vance, Ellen Drew, Kent Taylor and Judith Barrett, S. S. Van Dine's "The Gracie Allen Murder Case" will open tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre. Designed to amuse and thrill, the picture places plenty of emphasis on Miss Allen's insane comedy without neglecting the thrilling moments to be expected in a Van Dine story.

Since Gracie is a key character in the picture, much of the murderous action centres around her early in the proceedings. She has been taken to his company's picnic by her uncle, and introduced to Kent Taylor. Kent is in love with Ellen Drew, but they've had a tiff because she won't listen to his proposals of marriage.

No Ferry Strike Before July 31

Black Ball Tie-up Postponed Pending Adjustment Efforts

SEATTLE — There will be no ferry strike on Puget Sound for at least 30 days.

This announcement was made here following a special meeting of the Inland Boatmen's Union, at which a secret strike ballot was taken. A negotiations committee from the union has been in conference with representative of the Puget Sound Navigation Company, operators of the Black Ball and Kitsap County Transportation Company ferry lines. The Black Ball Line operates between Seattle, Port Angeles and Victoria, B.C.

John E. Sullivan, spokesman for the negotiations committee of the union, said the union realized that a strike would be a great inconvenience to the public, and the union felt that the public is entitled to due notice of its intentions.

However, he said that the company will be formally notified this morning that the strike will be called July 31, unless an agreement is reached in the meantime. The union asks wage-hour adjustments.

Arctic Cruise Starts July 8

Nascopie to Sail 13,000 Miles On Northern Patrol

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada again will assert her sovereignty over the islands of the Arctic this year when the annual expedition of administrative officials penetrates the bleak wastes of the north. On July 8 the Hudson's Bay Company's steamer, Nascopie, will leave Montreal, to begin a voyage of nearly 13,000 miles.

As in former years, the veteran Major David McKeand, superintendent of the Yukon and Northwest Territories branch of the Mines and Resources Department, will be in command. This year, according to Resources Minister T. A. Crerar, the Nascopie and three auxiliary motor schooners will make 22 main calls and serve approximately 48 Royal Canadian Mounted Police posts and outposts. Supplies and mail will be delivered to government medical officers, R.C.M.P. stations, hospitals and missionaries.

Medical officer of the expedition is Dr. J. Melling, Edmonton, who is to go as far as Chesterfield, on Hudson Bay. There he relieves his brother, Dr. T. Melling, who will return in the Nascopie.

Several outstanding scientists will accompany the party. D. A. Nichols of the Geological Survey, Ottawa, will continue his study of the physical geography of the Arctic regions.

H. S. Peters, United States Department of Agriculture, will extend his biological investigations from the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland as far north as the expedition will sail.

Representing the animal population bureau of Oxford University, Dennis Chitty and Max Dunbar, graduates in zoology, with extensive experience in biological work in Greenland and Alaska, will continue their studies and make collections of animals, birds and other Arctic wild life.

L. L. Lyster, representing the Institute of Parasitology, McGill University, Montreal; John Oughten, Royal Ontario Museum of Zoology; Dr. C. H. M. Williams, of the Toronto University Dental Faculty, and others will form part of the scientific personnel.

Pickets Abandon Watch at Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — Two labor problems on Seattle's waterfront were written off the books today, leaving but one dispute—the employment of a crew for the steamship Coldbrook still to be settled.

Pickets, who had successfully prevented the loading of scrap-iron aboard the Japan-bound freighter Bonnington Court for almost a week, withdrew last night.

Longshoremen today started loading scrap aboard the Bonnington Court and the Danish freighter Nordbo when pickets, representing the Seattle Committee against Fascist Aggression did not interfere.

The picket line, established to protest the shipment of scrap-iron to the Orient, was disbanded on the eve of the scheduled hearing in federal court this morning on a petition for a permanent restraining order to prevent picketing. Several persons, accused by deputy United States marshals with ignoring a temporary restraining order, were also to answer to contempt of court charges.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (AP)—Light selling prompted by weakness on outside markets caused wheat futures prices to slip more than a cent in a dull session on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Only minor support was offered and at the close quotations were ⅞ to 1¼ cent down, with July at 58⅞, October 58¾ to 58⅞, November 61⅝ and December 61¾ cents.

Confirmed export sales of Canadian wheat totaled only 150,000 bushels as buyers remained on the sidelines most of the day.

Cash wheat transactions uncovered a fair demand for the top northern grades from shippers and exporters. Mills and export houses were credited with small purchases of oats and barley in the coarse grain pit.

Lack of demand for Argentine wheat from United Kingdom millers and consistent liquidation in the July contract forced Liverpool 1⅛ to 1⅞d lower. Chicago slipped about a cent while Buenos Aires showed little change.

World wheat shipments last week reached 12,447,000 bushels compared with 13,548,000 the previous week and 10,367,000 bushels in 1938.

Clearances from North American ports totaled 3,875,000 bushels last week, 4,508,000 the preceding week, and 2,670,000 bushels for the corresponding seven days a year ago.

Wheat afloat to Europe at the conclusion of last week aggregated 45,408,000 bushels. This total was slightly below the previous week's 47,712,000 bushels but nearly 10,000,000 bushels above last year's aggregate of 35,920,000 bushels.

Friday's country marketings reached 411,000 bushels against 178,000 bushels for the same day in 1938.

Winnipeg

Wheat—	Bid	Offer
October	59-3	60-1

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat prices fell above 2 cents a bushel today to around the lowest levels in more than two months.

Heavy marketings of new wheat, with harvesting in the southwest near its peak, sharply expanding domestic supplies and weakness in foreign markets were factors that contributed to the selling. The market was under almost constant pressure throughout the session, but gave ground slowly. A private crop report issued today forecast a total wheat harvest of 709,000,000 bushels, or slightly larger than the government estimate a month ago.

Selected Stocks Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — A handful of stocks, led by American Telephone, got ahead today in one of the quietest markets of the postwar years.

Brokers' boardrooms, thinly attended in recent sessions, were further depopulated by the fourth of July.

Total transactions approximated 250,000 shares. Corporate bonds steered a steady course in slack trade.

Buying was concentrated in a few higher-priced favorites and industrial specialties. American Telephone was up 2 in late trading. Other gainers included Allied Chemical, Industrial Rayon, Loft, Celanese, Spicer, Anaconda, Cerro De Pasco and J. C. Penney.

Little change was recorded for such issues as General Motors, General Electric, Du Pont, Consolidated Edison and New York Central. Many issues did not trade.

Lake Shore and Dome slipped minor fractions in the Canadian group while distillers edged forward. Dominion 4s moved evenly.

International Nickel and Noranda improved ⅝ to ½, and Smelters and Hudson Bay were off slightly. In the silvers Eldorado worked back 6c to 1.09.

Beverages, steels and utilities posted more gains than losses, and the utilities and senior oils were irregularly lower.

Bonds

NEW YORK—United States government issues shaded downward in scattered dealings today as the corporate bond market edged up a bit in light preholiday business.

Near noon some treasuries were off as much as 18-32nds of a point.

Continued European tension with the fresh week-end warning of British Prime Minister Chamberlain to the German Reich against aggression caused tapering in the foreign dollar list.

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, July 4, 1939

This is rather an uncertain day, according to astrology. The morning hours inspire patriotism and encourage leaders of the people to speak plainly on public issues.

Women should avoid crowds. They will benefit through quiet hospitalities in country homes. Girls may expect little attention from young men, for the stars frown on romance.

The configuration is more promising to thinkers than to doers today. The serious side of present-day citizenship will be more widely discussed than the heroic deeds of the past.

Weather vagaries may be expected in various parts of the country this month. Heat will be followed by violent storms causing serious damage.

Under this direction of the stars money will be freely spent to the advantage of hotels and recreation centres. The summer is to be a period of general pleasure-seeking.

Warning is given that young people may be difficult to manage. Novel lures for money spenders will wreck many family budgets.

Drinking of alcoholic beverages will increase through the next few months. Girls, as well as boys, should be safeguarded against foolish indulgence. Temperance agitation will mark the autumn.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of average good fortune, but they should practice thrift. Women may be lucky in obtaining government employment.

Children born on this day probably will be sensitive and intuitive. Many of these subjects of Cancer possess remarkable memories and achieve success in public affairs.

Ways of Fresh Water Clams

Sometimes we hear a person say that someone else "shut up like a clam," in other words, did not talk anymore.

A clam never talks in the first place, but it does shut up. It has muscles which can pull the two parts of its shell together and hold them tightly.

Three parts of a clam's "step." (After Buchsbaum.)

Clams are found both in the sea and in fresh water. Those which live in rivers and lakes often are called "fresh water mussels" or "river mussels."

Fresh water clams, like their relatives of the sea, have feet, and can use them for walking. Each clam has one foot. With the shell partly opened, the clam stretches out its foot. The end is pressed on the sand or mud at the bottom, and then muscles work to pull the clam's body toward the end of the foot. That is how a clam walks.

A clam, however, does little walking. With the help of its foot, it makes a shallow hole in the sand, and partly buries itself. Then it lies still, waiting for food. It draws in water, and strains tiny bits of food from it.

For a time, the bits of food rest on the clam's gills. Then they pass into the little animal's mouth.

Yes, a clam has a mouth, or at least an opening which sends the food through a tube to the stomach. It also has intestines and a heart. There are a few nerves in the body, but they are not combined in any place to make what we might call a true brain. To some extent, a clam can feel, but it hasn't much sense of anything else. It lives in a clam's world, which in general is a very slow place.

There is one time in a clam's life when it may travel far and wide. After hatching from the egg, a clam larva either dies or finds a resting pace on some other animal of the water. It may fasten itself to the fins or gills of a fish, and in that case is carried around. For several weeks, it draws its food from the fish. Then it lets go its hold, and falls to the bottom. For a time it has a small shell, but the shell grows in size.

Clams sometimes produce pearls. These have value, but not so much as those made by oysters.

The lining of clam shells is known as "mother-of-pearl," and has proved important in industry. Millions of clams have been gathered so pearly parts of the shells could be used in making pearl buttons.

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

"I can't understand it—I just said I was dated two weeks ahead, but I was sure he would call me back!"

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am 39 years old. My wife is 36. We have been married for 15 years. The first two or three years went over quite well, and after the children came married life seemed very interesting, but of late some change has come over my wife that I cannot explain. She is unhappy and discontented, constantly complains and finds fault. I am very fond of her, and, thinking perhaps she needed change and cheering up, I embarked on a pleasure campaign, taking her out to suppers and to dance afterward, or else taking in a good picture, but the plan didn't work. Regardless of what I do, nothing seems to please her. Either the show isn't any good, or I danced with some woman she didn't like, or else something happened on the way that displeased her and the battle is on. Our daughter sides with her mother, as though she likes to keep the arguments going, but my son is a regular pal to me and tries to make peace. This constant nagging makes me lose my interest in my home. I love my family and want life to be as pleasant as possible for them, but how can I make it so with a wife who glooms all the time?

JOSEPH.

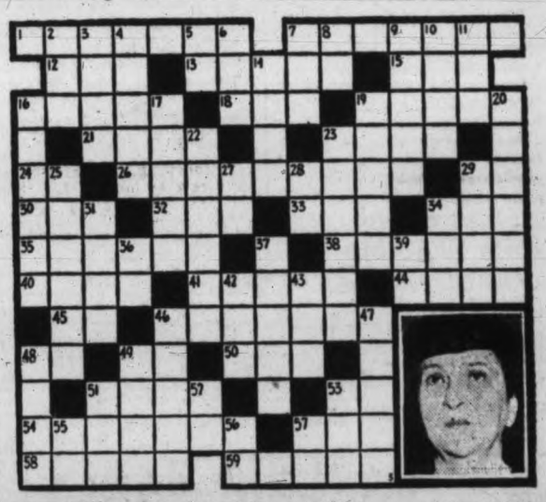

Answer: Evidently your wife is fed up with marriage. For some reason home and husband and children have got on her nerves, and the best remedy for what ails her is to send her away on a good long trip if you can afford it. If not, send her to visit her mother or some relative or friend.

And tell her why you are doing it. Tell her that you are not going to stand being nagged and picked on all the time, and that unless she can make up her mind to be pleasant and agreeable at home she needn't bother about hurrying back.

And if that impertinent daughter of yours is too old to turn across your knees and give the spanking she needs so badly, just tell her in terms that she will never forget where she gets off, and that you will not put up another time with her impudence. You are to blame for not having reared her to treat you with respect, but it isn't too late even now to teach her to at least be polite to the one who feeds and clothes her.

DOROTHY DIX.

game, 3 to 2, on Luke Hamlin's six-hit pitching but lost the second, 6 to 4, to a home run barrage in which Bonura participated. Durocher stepped on Zeke's ankle in a play at first base in the nightcap and Bonura threw the ball and his glove at Durocher and then punched him.

At Boston catcher Gene Desautels of the Red Sox was bowled over tagging Tommy Henrich at the plate and had to retire for the day with a cut mouth. Then young Bobby Doerr was struck on the elbow by one of Lefty Gomez' pitches and taken to a hospital. Finally Henrich smashed into the bleacher wall and cut a gash on his head trying to field Ted Williams' home run.

Four stitches were required to close the wound.

Cleveland and St. Louis Browns split a bargain bill, each game being won by five-hit pitching. Howard Mills got his performance down first as the Browns won, 4 to 3, while Mel Harder took the nightcap, 8 to 2.

RADIO ROMANCERS MARRIED TODAY—Scenes such as the one pictured above will be regular occurrences in the household of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Craig-Young, Yakima, who were married here this afternoon. Mrs. Young is the former Mildred Tate whose radio romance with her husband attracted attention. Both were amateur short wave radio enthusiasts and conversed for six months on the air before they met personally. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Tate, 389 Ker Avenue. They are shown above sitting beside the transmitter and receiver operated by Ray Tate, Mrs. Young's brother, over which she first heard her husband's voice three years ago. They were married by Rev. J. B. Rowell at his home today and left this afternoon for Seattle for a brief honeymoon before returning to Yakima to live.

HOW THE WHOLE WORLD MAY FARM IN EASY FASHION—Small boys like this one can easily operate the new Ford tractor it is claimed. Henry Ford says of it. "In a way, I can't blame the dictators for their aggressiveness and preparedness. They don't know any other way to put their people to work. But I believe I have provided a way for the whole world to take up farming in an easy pleasant way." This new tractor develops 23 horsepower at plowing speed, works a nine-hour day on six gallons of gasoline, it is claimed. Since it enters Canada without duty, it sells here at approximately United States prices.

RADIAL CARS CRASH HEAD-ON, INJURING 31—When two radial cars crashed head-on with terrific impact, June 29, between St. Catharines and Port Dalhousie, 31 were injured. This close-up photo shows the actual result of the collision. The two cars met with a terrible splintering and grinding, and before they completely stopped were embedded five feet in each other. George Schenk, operator of the southbound car, was most seriously injured and may have to lose a leg, it was reported. He was pinned in the wreckage.

THREE PASSENGERS ON ONE TICKET—No wonder Captain Maurice McGregor, of Trans-Canada Airlines, was looking perplexed when this shot was taken at Regina, Sask., airport, Wednesday. Here was a problem! Three passengers on one ticket! If Mrs. Albert O. Urness of Regina, had missed that westbound 'plane that morning she would have had to pay for two people more than she did for Jackie and Teddy, her twin sons, were just one day under two years of age—the "free for children" limit—when they left the western city for a three-month visit with their grandparents at Victoria, B.C.

THE "PIG-BOATS" CARRY ON—The submarine Squalus lies on the bottom of the ocean but Uncle Sam's "pig-boat" service carries on. The Searaven, new sister ship of the ill-fated Squalus, is pictured above as a navy tug took her in tow immediately after her recent launching at Portsmouth, N.H.

St. Saviours B.C. Champs

VANCOUVER (CP)—A repetition of Saturday's Province Cup final match in which St. Saviours won the British Columbia soccer crown by defeating Radials 4 to 1 will be played here Wednesday night, when the same teams meet in a semifinal match of the Dominion Cup series, British Columbia section.

Winners of Wednesday night's game will later meet St. Andrews, another Vancouver squad, for the right to represent British Columbia in the Canadian championship finals.

St. Saviours are favorites to repeat their win, but Radials are given a good chance if they can develop a little better finish in their forward line.

They had their share of play all through Saturday's game, keeping the ball in St. Saviours' territory a good part of the time, but lacked the necessary scoring ability and generally lost the ball when nearly on top of the net.

Jack Muir, inside-right for the Saints, performed the hat trick, scoring the first two goals of the game and adding his third in the last 10 minutes of play.

Tommy Milsted netted the other counter for St. Saviours, while Radials' lone goal was scored by Hap Smith just before the half-time whistle.

Muir's first counter came shortly after the start of the game and midway through the half he added his second. Both teams then missed several good chances to score and about five minutes before the half Milsted beat Bill Watson in the Radials' net with a pass from Muir.

Smith exhibited a bit of tricky playing on his counter, working Dan Kulai out of position and placing the ball in the far corner of the net.

Numerous shots were missed by both forward lines during the second half, with Radials forcing the play and keeping Kulai busy.

Ten minutes before the end St. Saviours broke away and carried the ball down the field, Muir scoring after taking a cross from Byford.
